POLICE BARE DARING PLOT TO RELEASE GANG LEAD

Fourteen Suspects In Proposed San Quentin Jail Delivery Nabbed

BALK $6000 ROBBERY
Gangsters Plan Freedom For Man Convicted In Howard Street Outrage

United Press Leased Wire
LOS ANGELES, July 27.—A well planned conspiracy to obtain the freedom of "Spud" Murphy, by a sensational jail delivery at San Quentin where he is serving a sentence of fifty years imprisonment for connection with the notorious "Howard street gangsters" of San Francisco, was nipped in the bud with the arrest of fourteen men in the past twelve hours, according to announcement today by the police department.

The high lights of the startling disclosures follow:
S. F. Men Organize Gang
That three men came to Los Angeles from San Francisco and organized a gang here to get funds with which to release Murphy.

That the gang planned to hold up a bank messenger at noon today and get $6000 which the messenger carried.

That following this robbery, the general offices of a taxicab concern on South Figueroa street were to be held up.

The disclosures were made today by Detective Sergeants Joe Ritch, "Rube" Harris, George Smith and E. S. Hamilton and State Officer Peoples, who participated in a spectacular roundup of the alleged gang members in the downtown district.

One of the prisoners, an ex-convict, said by the police to be a "two-time loser," has confessed and revealed the entire plot of the San Francisco men. He is said to have revealed all details of the scheme to finance the San Quentin delivery with money stolen in Los Angeles.

List of Prisoners
Those now held in jail following the roundup are:
Charles Quinn, 20, newsboy; David O'Connell, 24, sailor; E. August, 22, merchant; A. Jones, 21; Ernest Edwards, 21, baker; Frank Ellis, 24, newsboy; Guy O. Bates, 18; Philip Lennox, 29, chauffeur; Charles H. Kelly, 28, mechanic; Fred G. Bloom, 28, musician; George E. Carr, 21, sailor; Tom F. Zeeger, 21; Sam Heuer; John Doe, who confessed the entire plot.

Carr, Zeeger and Lenox were booked on charges not directly connected with the plot. Detectives are endeavoring to establish their alleged complicity.
According to "John Doe's" story, three men, whose names are also being guarded, members of the Howard street gang, some of whom are now serving prison terms for mistreating a number of young girls, came here and hatched the plot.

According to the ex-convict's confession, the gang began its operations here for the "Murphy fund" last Friday night, when it waylaid J. W. McClure on Ingraham avenue, obtained his money and valuable papers.

Had Messenger Spotted
The big "cleanup," however, was to have been made today with the robbery of a bank messenger which the gangsters had "spotted" and the subsequent holding of the general offices of the Yellow Taxicab company. The police declare that while some of those under arrest may have no connection with the plot to release Murphy, they will be held pending a complete investigation.
Officers said that men in jail decline to discuss their arrest, and deny the charges hurled at them by the ex-convict.

PRISON PLANS RECEPTION FOR JAIL BREAKERS

SAN QUENTIN PENITENTIARY, Cal., July 27.—San Quentin authorities evidenced great interest but did not seem much worried today when they learned of the alleged plot in Los Angeles for the release from prison of Ed ("Spud") Murphy.
"Well, that's interesting," was the comment from the warden's office. "Tell the gang to come on—we'll be ready to give them a hearty welcome if they want to start any jail deliveries."

Murphy is busily engaged making grain bags in the jute mill at the prison, at present.

PRESIDENT DRAWS FIRE FROM LEGION FOR STAND ON BONUS

United Press Leased Wire
WASHINGTON, July 27.—The demand for a soldier bonus bill "is based on simple justice and will not and cannot be downed," Gilbert Bettman, chairman of the American Legion legislative committee, told President Harding.

The view presented to the senate, by Harding that the soldier adjusted compensation measure means merely giving a cash gratuity to soldiers is unfair and erroneous, Bettman told the president.

Bettman also cited the soldier aid work Canada has done and explained that the Legion is seeking, not a bonus for military service, but an approximate adjustment of the economic loss suffered by the men in the service.

Bettman presented a carefully prepared statement to the president, in which he referred to the "unusual procedure" of the president in asking the senate to defer action on the bonus.

LIP STICK AS CURB ON WANDERING MALE WINS HIGH PRAISE OF COSMETIC SOCIETY

United Press Leased Wire
CHICAGO, July 27.—A wife's failure to use a lip stick has wrecked many a happy home, according to members of the American Cosmetic society.

The 5000 members of the society, in convention here this week, are converts to the doctrine that curbing the male instinct to wander is part of their job.
"Men don't want to admit it, but they won't be good unless their wives make them," declared Mrs. M. F. Baird of Champaign, Ill., president of the society. "And when a man wanders, there's generally one answer. His wife has let herself become dowdy."

Mrs. Roberts and Attorney Victor In Having Guilty Plea Removed

Mrs. Lionel Roberts, Balboa, is not guilty of the charge of being an inmate of a house of ill repute. City Recorder Heathman is on record as making proper amends for what appears to have been the "railroading" of an innocent woman into a plea of guilty to a charge of which she was innocent.
Attorney Dan V. Noland, of Los Angeles, and Mrs. Roberts in the recorder's court late yesterday afternoon won their battle to have both the charge to which she pleaded guilty and her plea of guilty removed from the records of the court.
Noland went into court with affidavits as to the character of the woman signed by Lew H. Wallace, president of the First National bank, of Newport Beach, and Mrs. Tom O. Jay. Balboa, Mrs. Roberts also presented an affidavit in which were recited the circumstances of her arrest.
Following presentation of the affidavits and arguments for justice, Noland moved that the judgment of the court be vacated. The motion was granted, with the understanding that the court had no jurisdiction over the money that had been paid as a fine, that having passed to the city treasury. A plea of not guilty was entered and the case was tried.
At the conclusion of testimony that was convincing that a serious blunder had been made in the arrest of the woman, Heathman found the defendant not guilty.
"As the case now stands as against Mrs. Winifred Roberts, who was in the former case called 'Cecile Brunner,' the judgment of this court is that she is not guilty," said Judge Heathman in rendering judgment.
"The defendant has established her innocence by overwhelming and competent testimony. (I know a number of the witnesses myself, and their word with me is as good as gold.) and had this testimony been introduced to me the evening that Mrs. Roberts was tried in the city hall there is no doubt in the world that I would have rendered a judgment that evening that she was not guilty."
"I regard her as a woman who has been overtaken in unfortunate circumstances over which she had no control and it seems clear to my mind that she was intimidated by Mr. Chesterfield (the detective) or whatever his real name is. None of it occurred in my presence that evening."
"I pronounced the question to her whether she was guilty and she answered 'guilty.' She has now stated her reasons why she answered. All the proceedings in this case appear to be fraudulent and this court and this city undertake, and all of its officers and myself individually are very glad today to do what little we can, to place her before the community in the position that she was in before she came to Santa Ana on that unfortunate adventure."
"I have nothing to do with the judgment for the money that was given. This whole proceeding, as I understand it, is in the nature of restoration of the character of this woman, impaired by her arrest and plea of guilty, and my decision is that she is not guilty. She is discharged, if it is necessary to say so."
The witnesses were Mrs. Iva Cox, of Los Angeles, Mrs. Tom O. Jay, Lew H. Wallace, City Marshal Sam Jernigan, Mrs. Roberts, her husband, and George Williamson (colored) at whose home the woman was arrested.
Mrs. Cox is a partner of Mrs. Roberts in a business enterprise in Los Angeles. She recited details of the appointment she had made with Mrs. Roberts for a meeting in this city the night of the arrest.
Mrs. Jay and Wallace testified as to the character of Mrs. Roberts and her reputation at the beach. Both pronounced her reputation good.
George Williamson said that he had been employed by Mrs. Roberts to drive her to this city to meet her engagement with Mrs. Cox, which was scheduled for 7:10 p. m. June 10. He reached St. Ann's Inn with his fare a little after 8 o'clock. Mrs. Cox had departed, believing that Mrs. Roberts had been detained.
Going to Williamson Home
Mrs. Roberts asked Williamson to drive her back to Balboa. He told her that he first would have to call at his home to tell his wife that he had to return and also to get his dinner.
He asked Mrs. Roberts into the house and she went in and had been there only a few minutes when the raid took place. He declared that the detective pushed a pistol in his stomach when he refused to admit that Mrs. Roberts was in the house for other purposes than to see Mrs. Williamson and to wait for Williamson to get his dinner.
He said that a scuffle ensued between himself and the detective and that his hand accidentally touched the pistol when the detective told him that if he made another attempt to grab the pistol he would shoot to kill, or words to that effect.
Williamson asserted that the detective told him that he was a fed and officer and that he could make getting a better hold on the boys and girls who are growing up."

WOMAN WINS IN WAR TO CLEAR RAID ARREST CASE RECORD

MAN JAILED IN $2000 SWINDLE AS 2 WOMEN ACCUSE HIM

Big Bunko Deals Blamed On Suspect Held In Connection With Anaheim Case

Two Anaheim women and six or seven other persons, whose names have not been disclosed, have been swindled out of more than $2,000, according to information in the hands of Deputy District Attorney C. N. Mozley today.
J. K. Woods, the alleged bunko artist, is under arrest in Los Angeles, having been apprehended in that city late yesterday. Deputy Sheriff Roy Ballard left today for Los Angeles and will return with the prisoner.
The two Anaheim women are Mrs. Laura B. Resh, a real estate operator, and Mrs. Frances A. Nelson, her friend. Both swore to complaints in the justice court here this morning.
Mrs. Resh asserts that she was defrauded of $720 and Mrs. Nelson claims that she lost $200.

Turn Money Over
The former said she turned her money over to Woods June 7 and Mrs. Nelson parted with her cash June 2.

According to the two women, Woods represented himself as being an agent for an oil syndicate which owned a big oil field in the Mojave desert. He is alleged to have told them that one derrick had been erected and that the company was drilling for oil; that a townsite had been laid out and that there was plenty of water in the desert for commercial and domestic purposes.

Both women admitted that they became excited over the prospect and "fell" for Woods's proposition. They invested heavily in the hope of making a big clean-up, they said.

Made Big Haul Claim
Deputy District Attorney Mozley says that Woods put the same proposition before several other persons and that all of them took him up.

According to Mozley, Woods cleared between $2,000 and $3,000. The other persons who are alleged to have been defrauded are expected to swear to complaints today or tomorrow.

Woods is specifically charged with obtaining money under false pretenses.

It was understood that he would be brought into the justice court here late today for arraignment.

SENATE CHIEFS MOVE TO DELAY ACTION ON HARDING'S RAIL BILL

By L. C. MARTIN

United Press Staff Correspondent
WASHINGTON, July 27.—A definite program for congress was being put in shape by leaders, following a conference at the White House last night at which the details were settled.

It was decided that the railroad relief legislation asked yesterday by President Harding can wait, there being no immediate need of it, in spite of the fact that Harding thought the need urgent enough to send a special message urging prompt action.

The program agreed on by Harding and senate leaders, it was learned, is this:

The senate to pass the administration substitute for the Norris bill to give credits to farmers enabling them to hold their surplus until markets open.

The senate then to pass the anti-medical beer bill and the Capper-Tincher bill to prevent future trading in grain.

The tax bill to be given precedence in the senate over the tariff bill.

Both houses to recess or adjourn as soon as the above program has been put through, leaving the senate finance committee to work on the tax bill.

The senate to return to work as soon as the tax bill is ready for it.

WOMAN WINS IN WAR TO CLEAR ARREST RECORD

It either hard or light with the prisoner. He said the detective advised a plea of guilty in the local court as the easiest way of getting out of the difficulty. The negro stated that only one quart of liquor was found in the house.

Following the trial, City Marshal Jernigan declared that Williamson told a straight-forward and truthful story of what occurred in the house after the officers went in.

In giving his testimony, Jernigan said that Mrs. Roberts was sitting on the edge of a bed in a bedroom when he entered the room, and that she had on her hat and coat and was dressed as if ready for the street.

Husband On Stand
The husband of Mrs. Roberts stated that he was entirely responsible for Mrs. Roberts failing to keep her engagement with Mrs. Cox. He did not return home from Los Angeles that evening until about 7 o'clock. He was advised of the engagement with Mrs. Cox for 7:10. Mrs. Roberts got dinner for him and then came to Santa Ana in the hope that Mrs. Cox might wait until she arrived, although she was more than an hour late.

Mrs. Roberts asserted that she went into the house to see if Mrs. Williamson would not again enter her employ as a domestic. Mrs. Williamson formerly having worked for her. She recited details of the arrest and charged that the detective advised her that the easiest way out of her dilemma was to enter a plea of guilty.

She declared that upon her answering in the affirmative a question by the detective as to whether she was married, he professed sorrow and said that he would advise her as he would a relative or close personal friend, and that his advice to her was to enter the plea of guilty.

The city trustees were not represented by counsel or otherwise at the proceedings.

EXPECT READY SALE FOR $280,000 BONDS VOTED AT FULLERTON

Ready sale and a high premium are expected for the $280,000 municipal bonds, recently voted by Fullerton, as result of the visit of John Burbage, assistant cashier of the Citizens' National bank of Los Angeles, to the Fullerton council meeting last night.

Burbage told the councilmen that he was ready to bid for the bonds and bolstered his request by remarking that now was a propitious time to market the bonds, as Los Angeles, he said, has several million dollars' worth of bonds to sell shortly.

The councilmen, however, decided that a better sale and a higher premium than that offered by Burbage could be obtained by advertising the bonds. Advertising it was voted, should begin August 16.

DE VALERA PEACE PARLEY IS CALLED

United Press Leased Wire
LONDON, July 27.—"President" De Valera has called Irish Republican army leaders and his chief supporters to a conference in Dublin on the British peace proposals. It was learned authoritatively today.

The conference was regarded as a favorable sign here, indicating that sufficient approval has been obtained to warrant extending the circle of those to whom the terms have been submitted.

It was believed that those Dail Eireann members who are at large already have met to consider the British offer and to pass on them more or less formally.

Opposition is known to have developed, but there was a growing belief that De Valera will be able to overcome it, at least to the extent of obtaining approval of counter suggestions.

URGE POULTRY MEN TO ATTEND L. A. MEETING

An urgent call was being sent out today to the Orange county members of the Southern California Poultry Producers' association to attend the general directors' meeting of the association to be held in Los Angeles August 29.

A meeting of the local stockholders was held at the farm bureau office last night at the call of Sidney Druce, Orange county representative on the board of directors. W. G. Hurley of Escondido, field manager for the association, gave an outline of the proposed plan of recapitalization which would operate by a small added assessment taken from the price realized by each producer on eggs and poultry handled through the association.

Increase in capitalization, Hurley pointed out, is necessary as the lease on the building occupied by the association in Los Angeles will expire by March 1 and it will then be necessary to seek new quarters, which must be far larger than the present ones.

CALL OF OPEN ROAD LEADS FAR AFIELD

With his Essex car equipped for several weeks' travel, T. S. Weston, 506 West Fifth street, was today ready for an early start tomorrow morning for Bellingham, Wash., and other Northern points.

Weston will be accompanied by his daughter, Miss Esther Weston, and his sister, Mrs. K. Strasburg, of Los Angeles. While in Bellingham they will visit Weston's aunt, Mrs. Lydia Dickenson, whom he has not seen for twenty years.

The trip will take the party on into Vancouver and many pleasant side trips to regions, little known by the average summer tourist, are planned. The party will have the advantage of the maps used by Mr. and Mrs. R. L. Bisby on their recent trip to Vancouver, and on these have been marked all the bad stretches of road which might be avoided, and the best road to take in every case.

The time limit of the trip is coincident with the opening of the schools in the fall, when Miss Weston will resume her studies at Santa Ana high school.

BEAUTY MAKES DEBUT

LOS ANGELES, July 27.—Frankie Kiolet, winner of a "movie beauty" contest conducted by a Seattle newspaper, made her debut before the camera at Universal City today. Filming of the first feature in which Miss Kiolet has a part is now under way.

THEATERS

The best vaudeville show seen in Santa Ana this season is the one that was the verdict of those who last night witnessed the Meiklejohn and Dunn show, which is to be repeated tonight at Yost's theater.

The headliner was Hans Hanke, noted pianist, whose work showed a finish and a dash such as has seldom been heard in this city. It was said that Hanke was disappointed in that it had been impossible to secure for him a grand piano. Even so, the music which he evoked from the upright instrument loaned for the occasion by the Shafer music house was remarkable for its timbre and sparkle. The numbers on his program were enthusiastically received.

From a popular standpoint, perhaps the greatest hit of the evening was made by Redmond and Wells, musical comedy stars, who, in their skit, "All for Fun," played upon the risibilities of the audience with a marked degree of success.

Second in popularity seemed to be Wildrid Du Bois, a juggler who had something new up his sleeve in the way of manipulations of tennis balls, rackets, billiard cues and like articles.

The other members of the bill were accorded much applause. Mary Miles Minter's "Don't Call Me Little Girl" was looked upon by those who saw it last night as one of the cleverest film comedies ever screened.

MYSTERY NAVAL OFFICER FINED IN AUTO CASE

Two naval officers, arrested about 10 o'clock last night by Sheriff C. E. Jackson and Deputy Sheriff Herman J. Zabel, following a collision on Fairhaven avenue, near Grand, spent the night in the county jail here.

The officer who was driving the car at the time of the collision was brought before Justice Cox at noon today. He pleaded guilty to a charge of reckless driving and paid a fine of $30.

Sheriff Jackson did not learn the real names of the officers and the one who appeared before Judge Cox was brought in on a "John Doe" complaint.

He was driving toward Los Angeles last night when he smashed head-on with a truck owned by the Coast Truck line, of Los Angeles. No one was hurt, but the left front wheel of the officers' car was broken off and the dash board was smashed.

Both of the officers resented their arrest.

"It's none of your business what we're doing here," one of them said to Sheriff Jackson. "Who are you anyway?"

"We are officers," said Jackson, referring to himself and Zabel. "Well, why didn't you introduce yourself," snapped the naval officer. "I can do that now," said Jackson. "I'm the sheriff of Orange county and this man here is one of my deputies."

The naval officer saluted Jackson and said: "I'm Lieutenant John Doe." And he still is John Doe so far as court records go.

CHINESE VILLAGE IS ARRANGED IN WINDOW

A busy morning on the outskirts of a village in the Shanghai region of China, is the scene that greets those who stop to look in the windows at the S. Hill and Son Hardware store on East Fourth street.

The small lake which centers the window, is typical of the waterways of the country and there may be seen the sampans, the fishing boats and the rafts of bamboo logs where the native who fishes with cormorants plies his trade. Along the highway which borders the lake, the life of the countryside is shown in the quaintly carved figures which run the range of the goose-boy with his flock, the laborer with his charcoal brazier, the countryman on an ox, the lad driving pigs to the nearby village and the dignified official in a beautifully carved sedan with four bearers.

The village life is pictured with little groups of laborers, men engaged in winnowing and grinding rice, others sawing wood and working as smiths, while women are weaving matting and embroidering.

The collection is part of that brought from China by Miss Viola Hill, daughter of G. P. Hill, 1102 Spurgeon street, and a teacher in the schools of Ning-Po, China.

IS GIVEN FINAL DECREE

Superior Judge R. Y. Williams has handed down a final decree of divorce for Ida M. Turner, 316 1-2 North Birch street Santa Ana, from Charles N. Turner, whose last address was given as San Francisco. The couple were married October 28, 1910. Mrs. Turner asserted that her husband was discharged from the army at the Presidio, San Francisco, March 31, 1919, and that he deserted her about that time. A daughter, aged 10, is in the custody of the mother.

HAVE HEART-TO-HEART TALK WITH PASTOR

With a number of their colleagues away on summer vacations, the remaining Orange county Sunday school workers dispensed with formality at their nineteenth monthly conference at the Congregational church yesterday evening. Friendly discussion of a "heart-to-heart" nature with Dr. J. C. Kennedy, who has been giving the series of "Studies in Matthew," occupied by the time usually given to a more rigid program.

The August meeting will be held in somewhat the same manner, the Rev. G. W. Kitzmiller announced today.

COMPLETES CRUISE

Completing his "hitch" as a member of Uncle Sam's "navy," J. E. Spencer, formerly of the S. S. Percival, arrived in Santa Ana this morning for a visit with his sister, Mrs. Judson G. Sutherland, 521 South Broadway. Spencer carried with him as a gift for his sister, a beautiful yellow Angora cat, which he had purchased as a kitten two years ago in the Azores and which has accompanied him on his voyages ever since, acting as ship mascot. The big yellow cat seems to pine already for the salt sea air, and probably will grow homesick for the pitching deck.

City and County

Governor William D. Stephens is to speak at the meeting of the Riverside Kiwanis club in that city tomorrow noon. He will discuss state government.

With a program of vocal selections to suit all tastes, the quartet of Santa Ana men composed of Harry Garstang, Robert Brown, Ellis Rhodes and Maurice Phillips were today in readiness to appear before an open air meeting of Modern Woodmen tonight at Fremont park, Riverside. Earl Fraser will accompany the quartet in their songs and also will play for Ellis Rhodes, who will sing a solo. The quartet will sing "Kentucky Babe," "Oh, Lovely Night," "The Trumpeter" and "Dear Old Pal of Mine."

Fully sixty persons, who comprise the employees of the Santa Ana Iron works and their families today are anticipating the annual picnic of the plant employees to be held tomorrow afternoon at Orange County park. The picnic will be held at the park about 2 o'clock and will enjoy a program of games and contests, under the direction of L. A. Turner, manager of the company. At 4:30 o'clock the dinner will be served by Tony's cafe, thus eliminating the work of preparing picnic lunches. Managers of the company will be hosts at the dinner, which will be followed by dancing. Music will be furnished by talented members of the party.

Mrs. E. A. Leamy, of Laguna Beach, was in this city yesterday following her return from a four months' trip East, during which she visited New York, Philadelphia, Chicago and other cities en route. Mrs. Leamy made the coast trip from New Orleans to New York and from there went to Philadelphia, where she was with her son, H. C. Leamy. She is anticipating now the early arrival of her friends, Mr. and Mrs. S. M. Renner and Mr. and Mrs. H. M. Geiger, of Sunbury, Penn., who will spend the greater part of the winter in this section of California.

All members of the board of education except A. B. Gardner are expected to be present at the city superintendent's office tonight at 7 o'clock for the regular meeting of the board. Gardner is out of the city. In addition to the routine business, the board will be asked to give its approval to the revised plans and specifications for the new high school, which were adopted by the building committee, and which now await the approval of the school board before being presented to the general committee.

The E. J. Miley well No. 1 continues to flow oil at the rate of 2200 barrels a day, according to word received from Huntington Beach. The oil is of a high grade, tests showing it to be 21 gravity. Reports from the beach state the Ashton No. 2, said to be ready to start producing, did not come in yesterday.

L. M. Eshom, who with his son, L. E. Eshom, were former owners of the Princess theater barber shop and who have just returned from a trip to Oregon, has bought the hut building next to the Day grocery store. Westminister and has fitted up a barber shop there. Further improvements in the shape of a cigar stand, confectionery and cold drink emporium are planned.

Motion pictures showing the interior of the Studebaker automobile factory, and of the record run of the Studebaker Light Six from Los Angeles to San Francisco, will be shown at Huntington Beach tonight by Brown & Bowles, Santa Ana automobile distributors, according to Robert E. Brown of that firm. A film of the run from Los Angeles to Phoenix of the same car, and a comedy are included in the program. These films were run at the Temple theater, Santa Ana, last night. There is no admission charge to view these pictures.

The Employees' Efficiency club of the Orange County Ignition works will hold its regular monthly meeting tonight at 7:30 o'clock in the offices of the company. All county employees are expected to be present and the evening will be devoted to a general discussion of the aim of the club, how to obtain first-degree efficiency. Refreshments will be served.

Major H. G. Upham, commander of Orange Post No. 132, American Legion, has named the following delegates to the Legion state convention to be held at Yosemite, August 22, 23 and 24: Arthur Schilling, Jesse W. Russell, William Handley and James Ragan.

Many persons become sunburned, at times, but it remained for Burton Baird, of the Santa Ana postoffice staff, to become what chefs call "done to a turn"—literally—beneath the rays of the Southland sun, while, clad in a bathing suit, he lazily basked in the gypsy-like breezes of Balboa. Countless bottles of soothing lotions, flocks of neat little jars containing creams and a stack of written recipes for best-known sunburn cures, reposing on shelves near his post of duty in the postoffice, bear silent testimony to the attitude of his friends in the matter. Baird, himself, though physically and facially unable to smile—even his eyeballs are sunburned—declares he "had a good time" and is willing to "take his medicine," figuratively and literally.

CITIZEN WORKERS

"If the managers of the packing houses think they can work school girls until school opens and that they can call on members of our union to go back to work, they are very liable to find themselves fooled in their calculations."

This was the statement today of Mrs. Lila King, Orange, secretary of the fruit workers' union organized at Orange following the walkout of packers there a few weeks ago. Mrs. King stated that a number of school girls were working in the packing houses before the strike, and that their number has been increased since the strike.

She declared that the managers would take the strikers back as vacancies occurred, but that employees would not be discharged in order to make places for the strikers. Discussing this situation, she then made the statement relative to the union's attitude toward the managers' employing school girls until such time as the schools reopen.

The matter of members of the union going back to work to fill the positions of school girls when they have to resume their studies at the opening of the fall term will come up for discussion at tonight's meeting of the union, scheduled to be held at Barger's hall, Orange.

Mrs. King asserted that she could not say whether members were returning to work in the packing houses at this time, but that she assumed some were again at work.

STEEL PRICES FIRM FOLLOWING REPORT

NEW YORK, July 27.—The New York Evening Sun financial review today said:
A strong undertone developed in today's stock market following upon a brief reaction from higher levels at the opening. Strength in the steel group, as a direct result of a materially better showing in the report of the United States Steel corporation, United Drug shares dropped more than five points at the opening and did not stop until they touched bottom at 54 at midday.
The significant thing about it all was that the list was not at all unsettled save for some of the specialties like Famous Players, Central Leather, Sears Roebuck, Pullman and Pressed Steel Car. On the other hand, United States Steel, Baldwin Locomotive, General Electric, Kelly Springfield Tire, Railway Steel Spring, American Telephone and Telegraph and others were strong, and the general list firm to strong, although trading was quiet at all times.
Railroad shares gave a very good account of themselves, although there was no great initial reaction at that quarter. The president's recommendations in his message to congress had already been discontinued.

NEW YORK STOCKS
NEW YORK, July 27.—A twenty point drop in United Drug shares featured trade on the stock exchange here today.
The stock started lower and continued weak until after noon, when it shot down to 24, off 20 1/4 for the day and nearly 30 points for the last two days.
The rest of the list turned strong. Baldwin made a new high for the move at better than 80, and practically all rails moved up in response to President Harding's message of yesterday.
United States Steel responded to the quarterly earnings statement, which was better than had been expected, by advancing 1-2 to 73 1/2. American Woolen was up 1-4 at 72.
Central Leather, 34 1/2, off 1-2; Retail Stores, 55 3/4, up 5-8; Studebaker, 104 1/4, up 1-2; General Asphalt, 51 7/8, off 3-8; Baldwin, 78 1/2, up 3-8; Kelly Springfield, 41 1/2, off 1-8; A. T. & T., 150 1/4, unchanged; Asphalt, 50 1/2, up 1-4; Mexican Petroleum, 103 3/4, unchanged.
The market closed irregular.
Closing prices included:
U. S. Steel, 74 1/2; Crucible, 55 3/4; up 1-2; Baldwin, 78 1/2; American Locomotive, 84, off 1-2; Pressed Steel Car, 65 3/4, off 6 3/4; Mexican Petroleum, 104 1/4, up 1-2; General Asphalt, 51 7/8, off 1-2; Atlantic Gulf, 21 3/4, up 1-2; Kelly Springfield, 41 1/2, off 1-8; Central Studebaker, 77 1/2, off 1-2; United Drug, 57, off 17 1/4; American Sugar, 68 1/2, off 1-4; Tobacco Products, 59 1/4, up 1-4; Pullman, 34 1/2, off 2 1/8.

CHICAGO BOARD OF TRADE
CHICAGO, July 27.—Big demand by many local traders for scant offerings of grain brought prices higher on the board of trade here today. Reports from the grain belts that weather conditions were again unfavorable to crop conditions also had some bearing on the increased prices. Provisions were higher, in sympathy with the grain market. July wheat opened unchanged at 124 1/2 and closed up 1-2. September opened at 123, off 1-2 and closed up 4. December opened unchanged at 126 3/4 and closed up 2 1/4.
July corn opened unchanged at 64 and closed up 1-4. September opened at 61, closed up 1-4 and closed up 3-8. December opened at 60 3/4, unchanged and closed 1-4 higher.

HARDING STEERS TOWARD RETURN OF NORMALCY

BY RAYMOND CLAPPER
United Press Staff Correspondent
WASHINGTON, July 27.—The Harding administration has mapped its course for a return to normal conditions.

Developments today made clear for the first time the essential points in this course which Harding hopes to carry through with the aid of congress. It was understood that he sought this aid in a dinner given to senators at the White House last night.

Straighten Out Finances
The course as laid out involves a cleaning up of the "debris and left over" of the war. This includes the putting on a permanent basis of the allied debt to this country, the settlement of the government account with the railroads, the funding of $500,000,000 government obligations, due in 1923, and the revision of revenue laws to wipe out war taxes.

Settlement of these matters will, in the opinion of the president, give the country a feeling of security and permanency which will serve as a starting point for industrial and commercial revival.

The foreign debt situation is in the hands of Secretary Mellon and the senate. Harding has indicated to Senate leaders he desires early action.

Working On Tax Cut
Plans for the settlement of the railroad account with the government were explained in the presidential message yesterday. Revision of the tax laws is proceeding in the house.

The next step will be to make clear to congress and the country what the administration proposes to do about the settlement of $500,000,000 of government obligations.

Fate of the soldier bonus, which President Harding urged the senate to shelve, awaits the completion of the rest of the administration program, it is understood.

PASTOR SAVES $25 WHEN HE QUESTIONS ALLEGED FAKE HONOR

LOS ANGELES, July 27.—When Dr. Herbert H. Fisher, local pastor, received like a bolt from the blue a letter containing an honorary degree of LLD from the Centennial university, Denver, he was both surprised and pleased.

When in subsequent mail he received a statement from the university, asking for $25 to "cover" the degree, he held a little conference with postoffice inspectors.

Today Dr. Fisher was informed that the president, registrar and sundry other officials of the Denver "university" are out on bail, attempting to raise money to refund checks to other numerous divines, all over the country, who, like Dr. Fisher, received honorary degrees unsolicited and closely followed by printed forms marked "please remit."

MORALITY OF FOLK DANCES SUIT CRUX

SACRAMENTO, July 27.—The third district court of appeals here must decide whether old-fashioned folk dances are good physical training or whether they are vulgar and ruinous to the morals of school children.

C. C. Hardwick refused to permit his children, Irma, 13, and Douglas, 9, to learn the dances in the Fruit Ridge school, Sacramento county.

The school authorities expelled the children. Hardwick sued the school trustees for $500 and asked the reinstatement of his children. The lower court gave judgment to the trustees.

Hardwick declares his children were really being taught the terrible "two-step," the infamous "fox-trot" and the wicked "waltz."

The school trustees declare the dances were harmless and were good exercise and were not "ballroom dances in any sense or to any degree."

Hardwick appealed the case and now the district court of appeals must decide the question.

There's one blazed trail to better jobs, greater earning power, increased responsibility—it is by means of the Want Ads.

FALLS TO DEATH IN ATTEMPT TO RESCUE WIFE

United Press Leased Wire
BANFF, Alberta, July 27.—The lure of the Canadian Rockies claimed the life of Dr. W. E. Stone, president of Purdue university and one of the country's leading educators. The body of Dr. Stone was found jammed between two sharp jutting rocks at the base of Mount Aeon. He had fallen into the crevice while attempting to rescue his wife.

Falls Into Crevice
Mrs. Stone was found seriously injured lying at the foot of the crevice.

Mrs. Stone was rushed to an emergency hospital at Camp Assiniboine and a corps of doctors and nurses sent from here ministered to her. Physicians said she may recover.

The body of Dr. Stone was found Sunday. It took nearly an entire day to remove it from the crevice and guides from Camp Assiniboine did not return with the news until late last night. The brief word reaching here from the guides was a message telling of heroism and tragedy.

Mrs. Stone lost her footing on the steep slope of Mount Aeon and fell into the crevice. Her husband attempted to pull her to the surface with a rope. He did not survive the attempt and lowered himself to her side.

Gathering his wife in his arms, Dr. Stone attempted to climb back. He lost his footing and fell back into an even deeper crevice. Death was believed to have been instantaneous, so great was the fall. Mrs. Stone tumbled back into the shallower crevice, where she was forced to lie until rescuing parties found her Sunday.

NOTED SAVANT WILL TEACH AT PASADENA

LOS ANGELES, July 27.—The California Institute of Technology has appointed Dr. Robert A. Millikan of the University of Chicago to be director of the laboratory of physics, it was announced today.

Dr. Millikan is now professor of physics for the Illinois institution.

SAN DIEGO POLICE IDENTIFY STRANGER SHOT BY DETECTIVE

SAN DIEGO, July 27.—The police today announced that the man shot yesterday while resisting arrest was Harry Raymond, a wandering adventurer with a criminal record and a number of aliases. Raymond was shot and killed by Detective McCollum when he resisted arrest and ran.

Raymond recently operated in Los Angeles under the name of I. W. Green, residing at 4504 1/2 Wesley avenue, the police say. His arrest was ordered by San Diego authorities, after he had obtained a telegraph order for $100, sent to J. A. Fittell jr. by his father in Denver.

LYNCH THREAT MADE IN COLORADO DEATH

DENVER, Colo., July 27.—William Riley Hill, wanted in connection with the murder of his step-daughter, Helen Short, 10, whose body was found in an irrigation ditch near Eno, Colo., Saturday, was whisked away to the Greeley jail this morning after his arrival here in charge of officers from Sioux City, Ia. Hill was arrested there yesterday.

United Press Leased Wire
DENVER, July 27.—Two hundred heavily armed policemen were to meet the train on which William Riley Hill, arrested in connection with the murder of his ten-year-old step-daughter, will arrive here this morning. Hill was arrested in Sioux City yesterday.

Persistent rumors of an attempted lynching caused police officials to add an extra force. Hill will be held in the county jail under heavy guard.

The body of Helen Maxine Short, 10, was found in an irrigation ditch near Eno, Colo., Saturday. The child had been thrown in alive with heavy weights tied to her to hold her under water. The mother, Mrs. Thea Hill, accused her husband, from whom she had been separated, of a part in the crime.

OPEN DRIVE FOR STATE CONTROL OVER WATER

SAN FRANCISCO, July 27.—Launching of an initiative campaign to amend the state constitution to provide for unified state control, development and distribution of all water and hydro-electric energy in California was announced here yesterday. The proposed amendment also was made public. The amendment was prepared in a series of conferences covering more than six weeks in San Francisco, Los Angeles and Sacramento.

A statement issued with the announcement and amendment proposed was signed by Rudolph Spreckels, William Kent, William Kehoe, Horace Porter, John R. Haynes, L. L. Dennett and William J. Locke.

Main Provisions.
The main provisions of the proposed amendment, known as "The California Water and Power Act," follow:

Creation of the California Water and Power board of five members, four to be appointed by the governor; the director of the board of public works to serve ex-officio as the fifth. This board is empowered to carry out the provisions of the act.

Procedure by which cities, towns, irrigation, water, reclamation, or public utility districts, acting singly or in groups, may enter into contracts with the board for the construction of works and the supply of hydro-electric energy or both; the contracting political hydro-electric energy or water thus developed at rates which will repay the state for principal, interest, operation and maintenance charges for such service, in fifty years.

SALE OF BONDS.

The issuance and sale by the board of state bonds, to the extent of the funds required, as contracts are executed, and the use of funds thus obtained for construction work. The ultimate state credit available for this use is limited to $500,000,000. No burdens of either interest, or principal would be assumed by the state, except as the discharge of these obligations is assured from the earnings of reclaimed water or power.

Bond interest rates limited to 6 per cent.
State assistance for political subdivisions in obtaining their own distributing systems.

'LOVE, HONOR, OBEY' MISSING AS COUPLE IN UNIQUE WEDDING

SEATTLE, Wash., July 27.—Dr. Leslie Spear, of the department of sociology at the University of Washington and Miss Erna Gunther of Brooklyn, N. Y., have entered married life in a unique way, according to word received here.

They are legally married, but they neither of them promised to "love, honor, obey, cherish and protect." The magistrate who married them didn't "pronounce them man and wife."

Dr. Spear and Miss Gunther merely signed a marriage contract before a justice.

MODESTO STORE HIT BY BASEMENT BLAZE

MODESTO, Calif., July 27.—Fire starting early today in the basement of the Priester ladies furnishing store, one of the largest stores of Modesto, caused probably total loss in that department. The loss was caused by water as much as by fire.

The flames were brought under control before they could leave the basement and there was no other damage except that caused by smoke.

The cause of the fire and the amount of the damage have not been learned.

Betty Lou Goes Shopping

REALLY, the more I shop in Santa Ana, the more I fall in love with the stores. Jerry says, "Buy it in Santa Ana; it's cheaper, and just as good as in the city." But I find that it's not only cheaper to buy here, but things are better in the Santa Ana shops. Anita says the motto of our family is "You'll never go wrong if you shop in Santa Ana."

BETTY LOU.

THIS morning Anita and I went down to MITCHELL'S to choose the new wall paper for the living room. We found some beautiful patterns, and finally selected one that is going to make a tremendous hit with the family, I know, when we show it to them. They have such a large assortment of designs in wall paper at Mitchell's that it's a joy to choose from their stock.

Gold and silver turbans will be very smart for autumn wear, writes Celeste.

LAST night we had some friends in for dinner, and I served the most delicious little individual pastries for dessert. Our guests asked where I'd found them, so I told them about BAKER'S BAKERY, and the lovely things I get there. They have so many different kinds of cakes and pastries that I almost have to close my eyes to choose one, and not take them all.

WE'VE just had the best photographs taken of Bobby. You know I think it's so sweet to have pictures of the youngsters taken as they grow up, and at RABBIT'S STUDIO in the Spurgeon Building they're offering summer rates on all styles now, some as low as $3.50 for a dozen photos. They do such good work there, too. We've had his picture taken there every year since he was a little tot.

The safest way to string pearls is on a chain, say leading jewelers.

MY DEAR, I got the best looking pair of oxfords at Watkins Bootery. They're having a sale of broken lines, you know, and there are some dandy models for way below regular price. Mr. Watkins says the rest of the stock is marked down to the new low prices that are prevailing in the shoe market, for the day of high prices in shoes is passing, thank fortune.

WHEN Anita and Bobby were away all afternoon yesterday, I wondered what had happened, and I was just a wee bit vexed, until they came home and told me they'd been to the PRINCESS THEATER. I always like to have Anita take Bobby there, for he enjoys it so, and their pictures are so clean and wholesome. They charge only fifteen cents admission, too, you know, though they show all the best pictures as soon as they're released.

BOBBY, the little dear, is very obedient in most respects, but he will not let me turn out the light when he goes to bed. Of course the glare of a full power electric light isn't good for his eyes, so I went down to the GRANGER ELECTRIC COMPANY'S and got a "dim-a-lite" attachment for the globe in his room. That makes it so that I can leave the light burning, but it doesn't shine in his eyes, and it uses only about one-fifth to one-half the current required by the usual attachment.

ONE of the girls I went to school with has just been married, and she and her husband are planning to build soon. I told her to be sure to go out to the BARR LUMBER COMPANY and ask about their building service. She did, and yesterday she showed me the blue prints they furnished for the new bungalow. She says the building service was an immense help, and that she certainly is a booster for Barr Lumber Company.

Denatured alcohol will remove ink spots from white nubuck shoes.

OUR front porch used to be awfully hot and sunny, but, my dear, you should see the shade nook I've made of it. I went down to the Chandler Furniture store and got a set of Aerolux porch shades, a porch hammock and some awfully pretty red chairs. That porch is the most popular place in the house now. Jerry even suggested last night that we have our meals out there these hot days.

I GOT Jerry some of the best looking socks at THE WARDROBE the other day. He was awfully pleased with them, said he certainly does like to have me do his shopping for him when I go to the Wardrobe. They have some good-looking shirts there, too, this week.

Shades of our grandmothers! Are we going to wear hoops? It looks that way.

WE'RE going to the Kiwanis Club picnic tonight, and Bobby is just on tip toes, for the EXCELSIOR CREAMERY is going to furnish the ice cream, and if there is one thing Bobby loves, it is Excelsior Ice Cream. I let him have all he wants, too, for it's so good for him.

ANITA has aspirations in the line of short story writing, and has finished some new manuscripts lately. She wanted Jerry to have his secretary type them, but he said Miss Blank was far too busy, so she took them up to MRS. AUGUSTA STRAND, 412 Spurgeon Building. Mrs. Strand has typed several of Anita's school papers, and some of the things I've written for the club.

JERRY commended me on having cut down the grocery bill this month, and asked me how I did it. I told him I've been getting our groceries at GERRARD BROTHERS', and really, things are so reasonable there, it's surprising how much I can save. The cafeteria style of service appeals to me, too, it's such a time saver.

Ostrich plumes will be more popular than ever, is the word from Paris.

ANITA has been threatening to have her hair bobbed since Celeste wrote that it's the style in Paris. I told her that she was too old for it, though, and when she came home yesterday afternoon with her hair in short curls, I was certainly surprised. She must have seen what I was thinking, for she laughed, and said "Pooled you this time, Mumsy. I've been up to THE HAIR-GROW SHOP, 117 1/2 E. Fourth, and this is the new 'curly bob.' My hair's still as long as ever underneath." And sure enough, it was. The curls look so nice on her, too, I'm almost tempted to get some myself.

"SERVICE" is certainly the word at the ORANGE COUNTY IGNITION WORKS. I go in every two weeks to have them test the battery in our car, and look over the electrical equipment. Since I've been doing that I haven't had any trouble at all with any part of the car. Mr. Matthews says the easiest way to keep an automobile in order is by keeping an eye on the electrical equipment that way.

Now that ears are showing again, the earring is coming in to its own.

I'VE found such a good dress-maker, and she's so reasonable in her charges, too. She's up in the Spurgeon building, on the second floor. Her name is MISS MORELOCK, and really, she did such a good piece of work on my dress that I'm going to have her make me another, just because I know it will be so well done. And she's so prompt, too, always has things done when she promises them.

JERRY and I took a trip through the Studebaker factory last night. Yes, we really did—via the movies. It was the most fascinating thing to watch the growth of one of those powerful Studebakers from the raw product to the finished machine. I learned lots of things I didn't know before. I've been wanting Jerry to get a Studebaker for ages, and last night clinched it. He left an order today with Brown & Bowles, the local agents, for a Studebaker Light Six Sedan. I'm so excited, I can hardly wait till I have my hands on the wheel.

I used to dread sending our clothes to the cleaner so, 'till we began having them done by the CRYSTAL CLEANING COMPANY. They use the new Benzol process, and there isn't a speck of odor when the clothes come back. I think it's positively a godsend, myself, and Jerry always has his suits done there.

Taffeta dresses of all black, unrelieved by trimming, are being worn in Paris.

SUCH a good looking suit as I did find at the UNIQUE yesterday. Jerry says it makes me look years younger, while Anita threatens to borrow it the first time she has a "date." I told her I'd save her the trouble, though, and let her get a suit there for herself, for they do carry the most attractive clothes.

WE'RE planning to drive to Big Bear next month, you know, so Jerry went down to the ORANGE COUNTY AUTOMOBILE CLUB to see about the roads and to get some maps. He came home full of enthusiasm, and with maps and information enough for three trips. Really, I do think the Club service is simply wonderful. We couldn't get along without it.

WE HAD such a delicious dinner at JAMES' CONFECTORY one evening last week. Jerry called up from the office, and suggested that we meet him there. I don't know when I've enjoyed a meal so much. I like to cook, but it is a relief to eat away from home occasionally, and things are so delicious at James', that it makes it a double treat.

Colored organdy sashes are effective on dotted swiss dresses.

SINCE we've had the floors refinished, Anita is always having the young folks in to dance. That means we must have all the latest dance records, of course. So we've formed the habit of going to SHAFER'S MUSIC HOUSE each month and getting the best of the new records. We've been venturing into the realm of "high brow" music lately, too, and we certainly do enjoy our opera records.

Some of the new fall styles are almost "early Victorian," according to the latest from Paris.

I do think the MAIN SHOE HOSPITAL is the most convenient place. It's so handy to have them put on a half sole or a pair of rubber heels. They do such good work, too. It's really surprising how they can make an old pair of shoes look almost like new. They're on Third street, just off Main, you know.

DEBS RELEASE AGAIN UP BEFORE HARDING

WASHINGTON, July 27.—Representatives of the Political Amnesty league and others working for the release of Eugene V. Debs, and other political prisoners said that President Harding expressed sympathy with their mission during a conference today.

Harding, they said, pointed out that consideration of the subject could not be given until after "certain events."

This statement was construed by the visitors as meaning that the political prisoners would not be freed until after the peace proclamation is promulgated.

Samuel Gompers, president of the American Federation of Labor, and the executive committee of the Socialist party, were in the delegation.

POLICE GRILL WIFE OF MISSING BANKER

United Press Leased Wire
CHICAGO, July 27.—"The woman must pay," Mrs. Myrtle Spurgin, wife of the missing president of the Michigan Avenue Trust company, declared today.

Mrs. Spurgin and her daughter Vivian were held under police surveillance at different Chicago hotels, while police grilled them regarding their information on the banker's flight.

The two women arrived from Detroit last night and were taken into custody before they left the train. Authorities believed the banker, whose disappearance accounts for $1,500,000, fled to Mexico while he sent his family north in the hope of leading officials to believe he would join them in Canada.

Mrs. Spurgin said her husband told her "good bye forever" before he fled. She denied she and her daughter went to Detroit on his instructions.

ANTI-KLAN SOCIETY HURLS DEATH DEFY

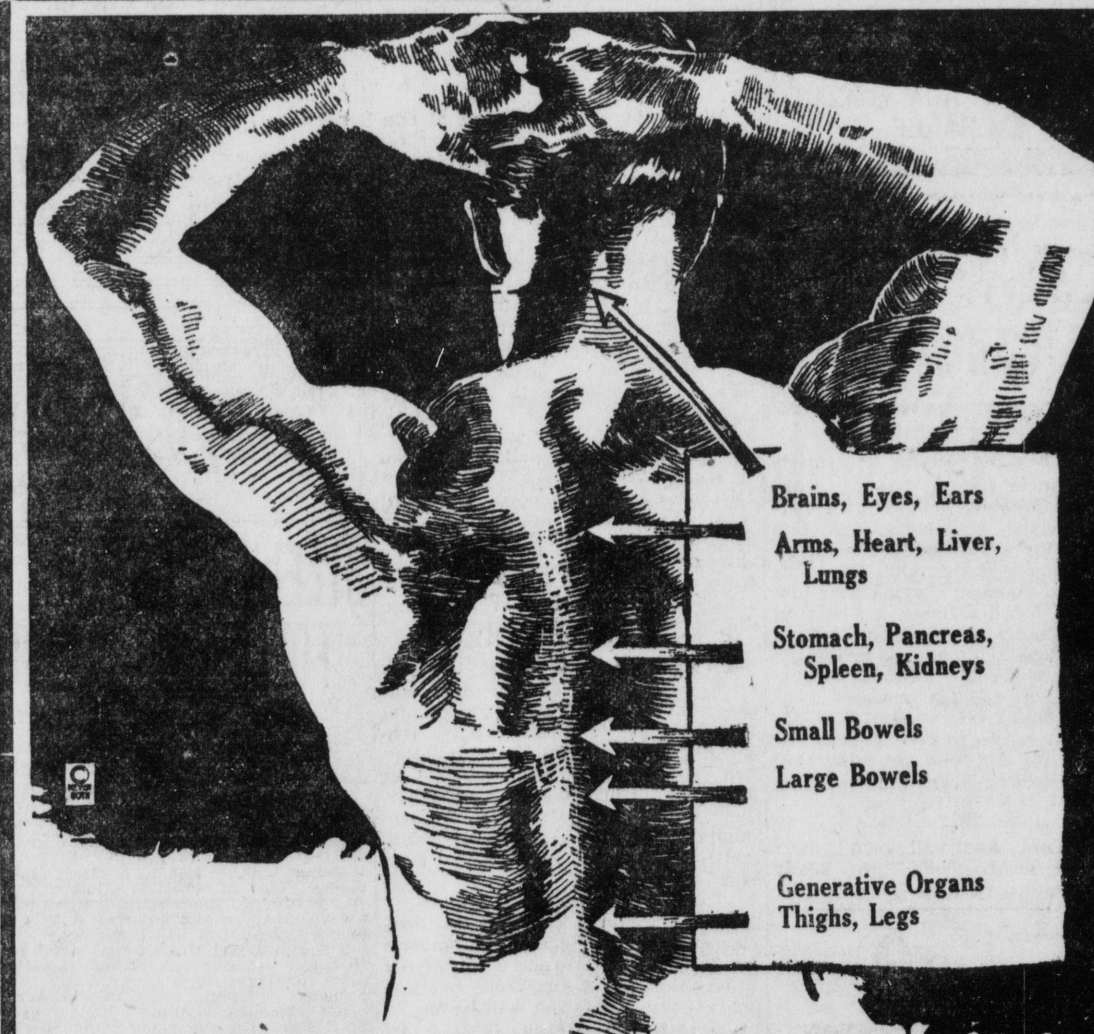

United Press Leased Wire
DALLAS, Tex., July 27.—A war of the klans threatened Texas today.

At Beaumont a letter addressed "Ku Klux Klan" and signed "Anti-Ku Klux Klan" was sent to a newspaper. It served notice that 100 men had organized themselves to "shoot down like mad dogs men found to be members of the Klan." The letter closed with the warning that "there will be many widows in Southeast Texas if the gang is not disbanded upon reading this notice."

At Texarkana last night masked men entered a dancing pavilion, kidnaped Gordon Harrison, negro orchestra leader, and whipped him, he told police. The abductors warned him to be careful in his relations with white people, he asserted.

Past Matrons O. E. S. Are Honored Guests At Pretty Luncheon

"Oh fuchsia, if the sages ask thee why Thy charm is wasted on the earth and sky,
Tell them, dear, that if eyes were made for seeing,
Then beauty is its own excuse for being."

One could not help but recall these beautiful words of Emerson, yesterday, upon entering the delightful home of Mrs. M. L. Palmer, for everywhere, charmingly arranged in baskets and vases, beautiful fuchsias nodded a welcome to the members of the Past Matrons' association of the Hermosa chapter, Order of Eastern Star, who were the guests of Mrs. M. L. and U. D. Palmer at a delightful 1 o'clock five-course luncheon.

The artistic place cards were the clever work of the little granddaughter, Justina.

The president, Mrs. Dora M. Pease, called the business meeting at 3 o'clock.

The next meeting will be held in Birch park, on August 23, and will take the form of a 6 o'clock twilight supper, the guests to be the husbands of the matrons. Last year's August supper was such a success that it was decided to make it an annual affair.

Yesterday's hostesses have been closely associated in the Eastern Star work for over a quarter of a century, coming to Santa Ana from South Dakota.

Their guests were:
Mmes. W. D. Barker, Cora B. Cavins, C. S. Dumphy, Ardine D. Clayton, H. Clay Kellogg, J. W. Mitchell, A. H. Pease, Adelaide Hammond, George Huntington, H. I. Reeves, O. M. Robbins, Max Reinhaus, W. H. Thomas, Frank True, William L. Tubbs, Theo. Winbiger, George A. Whidden, Leo H. Drake, Minnie M. Holmes and Miss Pauline Reinhaus.

The happy party was tinged with sadness at the absence of one of the associations' most popular members, Mrs. Adeline Brock, who is very ill.

DISPLAY OF MARBLE MADE AT S. A. BANK

With the Inyo Marble company actively engaged in efforts to get the contract for supplying marble for the proposed new city hall at Anaheim and the proposed hotel at Fullerton, interest was attached locally today to a display at the California National bank of marble from the company's plant at Inyo.

A. J. Padgham, of Santa Ana, is president of the company, and stock is held by a large number of Santa Anans. It is declared that the company has $300,000 worth of marble in sight in its quarries, which are in the Owens lake region, and include deposits of marble in various colors and markings, from black and deep blue to pure white.

The quality of the stone is said to be high, fine grained and of strong body, susceptible of high polish and suited to all styles of architectural application for interior and exterior work.

"We are going after the jobs in Anaheim and Fullerton to get them," said Padgham. "We want them as an advertisement for our product and we believe we can make prices that will be an inducement to employ marble in construction of one or both of the projects."

S. A. KIWANIANS GREET NEW FULLERTON CLUB

Santa Ana and Anaheim Kiwanians at noon today greeted "baby" Kiwanians of Fullerton at the first luncheon of the new club at Fullerton. A number of local members went from here and Anaheim were expected to send a good representation.

The Fullerton club has been in process of organization for several weeks and today's luncheon meeting marked the first in its young life.

A feature of the meeting was an address by Leslie B. Henry, of Pasadena, district governor, who extended felicitations to the new club, and recounted features of the International Kiwanis convention held in June in Cleveland, Ohio.

How to Buy a Bond

There is no mystery about buying bonds. That is, if you know how to judge bond values.

If you don't feel like trusting your own judgment, see your banker.

That is part of a bank's service—Suppose you wanted to buy a bond—And you knew that a strong, progressive bank had invested its own money in certain bonds after it had first investigated them in every way—You'd naturally want such bonds—wouldn't you?

That is the kind of service and the kind of bonds this Bank offers you. It makes no difference when you come to us to purchase, you can always choose the best—$100, $500 and $1,000 bonds, yielding 5 1/4% to 8%.

THE DREAM-TOWN SHOW.

There is an island in Slumber Sea
Where the drollest things are done,
And we will sail there if the winds are fair
Just after the set of the sun.
'Tis the loveliest place in the whole wide world,
Or anyway, so it seems.
And the folks there play at the end of each day
In a curious show called Dreams.

We sail right into the evening skies,
And the very first thing we know,
We are there at the port and ready for sport
Where the dream folks give their show.

And what do you think they did last night
When I crossed their harbor bars?
They hoisted a plank on a great cloud bank
And teetered among the stars.

And they sat on the moon and swung their feet
Like pendulums to and fro;
Down Slumber Sea is the sail for me,
And I wish you were ready to go.

For the dream folks there on this curious isle
Begin their performance at eight.
There are no encores, and they close their doors,
On every one who is late.

The sun is sinking behind the hills,
The seven o'clock bells chime.
I know by the chart that we ought to start
If we would be there in time.

O fair is the trip down Slumber Sea,
Set sail and away we go;
The anchor is drawn, we are off and gone
To the wonderful Dream-town show.

—Ella Wheeler Wilcox.

Hoosiers To Frolic and Feast At Exposition Park On Saturday

A great number of Santa Ana Hoosiers are planning to be "among those present" at the annual basket picnic of the Indiana state society, Saturday, July 30, in the picnic grounds at Exposition park, Los Angeles, and urge every other Hoosier that has not thought much about the picnic, to be there!

Coffee, sandwiches and cones may be obtained on the grounds by those not fortunate enough to have baskets well filled at home. Everyone should bring their own cups.

County registers will be posted throughout the grounds to enable friends to find each other, and a snappy program will be given at 2:30 p. m., including an address by the new president, V. T. Irwin. Music will be played throughout the day, the entertainment being in charge of Miss Goldie B. Young and Clarence D. Lawler.

ANAHEIM PHYSICIANS OPPOSE CAMPAIGN

ANAHEIM, July 27.—Local doctors all of whom are private practitioners, have taken exception to the activities of the chamber of commerce in aiding in the proposed work of raising funds to defray the expense of operating on crippled children of northern Orange county.

Drs. Beebe, Utter, O'Toole, Cole and Brastad met with the executive committee of the Children's Relief society and members of a special chamber of commerce committee at the chamber of commerce rooms to discuss the proposed drive.

Dr. Brastad said that in his opinion the drive should not be put on nor supported by the chamber of commerce, as such; that, after reading the articles appearing in the daily newspapers from day to day he could not believe that it was nothing more nor less than a tremendous advertising campaign put over by a commercial clinic operating in here.

Dr. Brastad stated that he was in favor of helping crippled children in every possible manner, but objected to a flagrant advertising campaign for personal gain.

Dr. Cole advised the committee to investigate thoroughly before going ahead with the proposed drive.

Dr. Utter paid tribute to the Orange county hospital, reminding the committee that there is such a hospital, one of the best, there is in Southern California, equipped with all the latest instruments and appliances for the relief of suffering humanity, and where all doctors and specialists are welcome to treat any unfortunate, crippled or deformed patient requiring specialized attention.

Dr. Utter said he is absolutely opposed to commercializing the practice of medicine by advertising and all he asked from the chamber of commerce was an impartial attitude towards all doctors practicing in this city.

Modern Woodmen Make Plans For Big Reunion and Picnic at Pomona

The Santa Ana camp of the Modern Woodmen held a class adoption of candidates last evening in the I. O. O. F. hall. There was a large delegation of visitors present from Fullerton, Whittier, Torrance and Long Beach, and a number of other camps.

The officers and team of Foresters from Long Beach had charge of the ritualistic work, assisted by District Deputy A. P. Martin, of Pasadena.

The entertainment committee under command of Chef Warwick served a fine banquet.

The Modern Woodmen are lining up a large class of candidates for an open-air class adoption, which will be held probably in Birch park. The public will be invited.

The seventh annual reunion and picnic of the Modern Woodmen will be held on September 3, 4 and 5 at Ganesha park, Pomona, and action is being taken for a large delegation to go from Santa Ana.

There will be competitive team drills of Foresters, field sports of all kinds, with suitable prizes for all contestants. The drill teams will go into camp at the park on Saturday, and there will be a class of 200 candidates initiated in the Greek theater on Saturday evening, September 3.

APPLE OUTLOOK IS PROMISING IN HILLS

RAYMOND, July 27.—Although at the beginning of the season the mountain apple crop seemed to be in a desperate condition, the indications are now, that the crop is going to be much heavier than was at first supposed possible.

The early apples will be ready for picking in about three weeks' time and though not up to their usual standard will be of fairly good quality.

The first output is entirely and easily disposed of locally, the mills, hotels and motoring tourists handling it all. The prices have not so far been fixed, but there is no reason to suppose that the producer, who in this case sells directly, often from his own door step to the consumer, will not make a fair profit.

On account of the difficulties of hauling, the later apples and those that are not of superior quality are made into vinegar, at times, and cider often, and in that way are disposed of easily.

The hills have always been proud of the purity and excellence of their cider. It was not at first intended for commercial use and the talented housewives of the mountains made it merely for themselves and their chosen friends. Gradually its excellence and marketable qualities became known and with it the added value of the apple crops.

ORANGE LEGION WILL WELCOME STEPHENS

Governor William D. Stephens will be the honored guest of the city of Orange tomorrow night, when he will officiate at the dedication of the clubrooms of the Orange post, American Legion, in the city hall.

Previous to the dedicatory ceremonies civic officials and representative citizens will sit at dinner with the Governor at the Den O'Sweets at 6 p. m. A short program will be rendered during the dinner at which 100 persons are expected. Addresses will be made by Governor Stephens and Buron Pitts, state commander of the American Legion.

Following the dinner, Governor Stephens and his party will be escorted to the Orange post clubrooms. The ceremony will be simple.

Governor Stephens, it is expected, will speak of the symbolism of the large membership of the Orange post in comparison with the size of the community. One hundred and fifty service men now belong to this post, which was cited by the state commander for its increase in membership over that of last year. Commander Pitts also will join in the ceremonies.

Major H. G. Upham, commander of the Orange post, will reply for the men of his post, while A. S. Ralph will preside as post chaplain.

Governor Stephens is expected to arrive in Orange by automobile from Riverside tomorrow afternoon. He will be received on the city hall steps by the mayor, city officials and officers of the Legion post.

THEATERS WARNED BY FIRE CHIEF

Fire Chief John Luxembourg today issued a warning to the managers of local theaters that they must abide by the state law and city ordinance governing fire exits, the handling of overflow crowds and like problems.

Luxembourg took this step following an investigation made at a local theater last night, when his attention was directed there by Officer Sid Smithwick.

His survey revealed twenty-six persons standing in the rear; two chairs in the aisles of the main entrance; seven persons in the rear of the left fire exit; one baby buggy and eight persons in the rear of the right exit, four of whom were sitting in chairs.

"This is an open violation of both the state law and city ordinance," said Luxembourg. "I am forced to issue a polite warning to the managers of theaters and the superintendents of churches. Persons are not allowed to stand in the aisles of a theater or church and the exits must be kept clear."

"I saw two chairs directly in the aisle of the theater I visited last night. Why, if some excitable person got a whiff of smoke and yelled 'fire' no telling what would happen. More than likely everybody would make a mad dash for the rear exits. Someone would fall over a chair and other persons would fall on top of him. The exit would become blocked and we would have disaster. I don't propose to permit the show people to take any chances."

DON DISGUISE TO CAVORT AT BEACH

Kiwanians, and those whom they have invited to be their guests tonight at the "rube" picnic at Laguna Beach, late this afternoon were garbing themselves in characteristic garments, preparatory to turning themselves loose later into the maledstrom of fun-making.

It is not expected that everyone will wear "rube" make-up, but there will be enough of the "elite" to make the affair diverting and kaleidoscopic.

R. R. Miller, Santa Ana community secretary of the Y. M. C. A., already has provided his "make-up" for the village pastor and it is presumed that he will wander among the "rube" in full exposition of the dignity and "piqueness" of the spiritual advisors of the early days.

It is said there will be several other well-known characters of the country type, but their identities are not being disclosed.

According to arrangements, the party will assemble at Laguna, in time to start the gastronomic features of the evening at 6 o'clock. Lunches will be spread at the arbor at the "corner drug store."

A program will be given at the dance pavilion, beginning as near 7:30 o'clock as possible. Old-time dances will be on the program, in addition to other features of entertainment.

11 SEAMEN HURT IN S. F. STRIKE RIOT

SAN FRANCISCO, July 27.—One man was believed to have been fatally and ten seamen badly injured in a riot at Meggs Wharf today when eight seamen and three firemen left the schooner Frank Stout, because, they said, they were mistreated by the first mate.

As they came up the dock they were met by a crowd of alleged strike sympathizers. The strike sympathizers, according to police reports, set upon them.

Police Lieutenant James Coleman responded to the riot call with a squad of police from the central station. At the police approach, the rioters disappeared.

SUPERVISORS ARE TO TAKE VACATION LAST TWO WEEKS IN AUGUST

The Orange county board of supervisors will not convene in regular session on Tuesday, August 2, or Tuesday, August 30. The members of the board have decided to take their vacations during that period.

No probate matters will be heard in the superior courts Friday, August 12, or Friday, August 26, as the judges will be absent on those dates.

GIRL BEGINS TERM OF 90 DAYS HERE

Mrs. Frances Talbert, 20, of Seal Beach, today began serving in the county jail here the sentence of thirty days imposed by Superior Judge Williams after the young woman pleaded guilty to a charge of simple assault upon her benefactress, Mrs. Carrie A. Collinge.

Tears streamed down Mrs. Talbert's face when she appeared before Judge Williams and admitted she had struck Mrs. Collinge with a broomstick. Mrs. Talbert's attorney requested he be allowed to file an application for probation, but Judge Williams denied his plea.

Mrs. Talbert was charged originally with assault with a deadly weapon. District Attorney A. P. Nelson yesterday reduced the charge to simple assault.

An element of mystery surrounded the attack on Mrs. Collinge for several weeks, but suspicion fell upon Mrs. Talbert, who was employed by Mrs. Collinge. The latter conducted a day nursery for babies. The attack occurred June 3. Evidence brought out at the preliminary hearing showed that Mrs. Collinge was surprised suddenly when someone threw a comfort over her head and then struck her with a club.

Mrs. Collinge said she knew there was no one in her room at the time except Mrs. Talbert and the latter's baby. But the manner in which she was handled after the comfort was thrown over her head led her to believe that a man was assaulting her.

When Mrs. Collinge threw the comfort from her head she saw Mrs. Talbert standing nearby with her baby in her arms. Mrs. Collinge asked her what she meant by treating her in such a manner, and Mrs. Talbert flatly denied that she had struck the blow or that she saw anybody else do it.

Since her confinement in the county jail here Mrs. Talbert has been comforted by her 3-year-old daughter, Lillian, who does not realize she is an inmate of a jail. The little girl spends much of her time playing on the jail lawn.

Mrs. Talbert appeared to be greatly relieved when she found the charge against her had been reduced and her sentence would be not more than thirty days.

MRS. WAILES HOME; FRIENDS RELIEVED

Miscarriage of a message, Mrs. Ruth Wailes, widow of the Rev. J. A. Wailes, late pastor of the Spurgeon Memorial M. E. church of Santa Ana, said today, was responsible for the report circulated by her friends that she had disappeared.

She returned to Santa Ana late last evening and unharmed.

When no word had been received from Mrs. Wailes following her departure from Santa Ana last week on a shopping tour in Los Angeles, her friends yesterday voiced the opinion that she was missing and that they feared she had met with foul play.

While the Rev. William Jay Richards, present pastor of the Spurgeon Memorial M. E. church, and Mrs. Richards were in Los Angeles yesterday endeavoring to locate Mrs. Wailes, she was on her way back to Santa Ana.

Arriving here, Mrs. Wailes was greatly surprised by the anxiety of her friends. She said she had sent a message to Santa Ana explaining her continued absence but it apparently was not delivered.

Since her return here, Mrs. Wailes has been kept busy relieving the minds of worried friends solicitous of her safety.

"It was most unfortunate," she said, "I did not expect to remain in Los Angeles so long, and only did so on the insistence of several girlhood friends with whom I visited."

"I did send a message to Santa Ana, but probably I should have satisfied myself that it was delivered, though I could not foresee that its miscarriage would cause such a furor."

BAR SOCIETY FOLK FROM HANGING BEE

United Press Leased Wire
CHICAGO, July 27.—Peters to make a pink tea affair out of a hanging bee were thwarted by Sheriff Peters today.

The sheriff stated he had turned down many society women and other prominent Chicagoans who asked him for an invitation to witness the hanging of Carl O. Wanders, who killed his girl-wife and a "ragged stranger" he hired to stage a fake hold-up.

"Only the usual number of invitations will be issued," said the sheriff.

In Chicago, where there is a hanging or two every Friday morning, cards reading, "you are invited to attend the hanging of so and so at the county jail," etc., are issued.

"If people had their way, a hanging would be about as exclusive as the union depot," Peters said.

N. Y. ELK' CHAPLAIN VISITS S. A. LODGE

"Laudation of Elkdome as Seen by a Clergyman" was the subject chosen by Chaplain Harry W. Jones to present last night before the members of Santa Ana Lodge No. 794, B. P. O. E., gathered for their regular meeting.

Chaplain Jones represented the New York Elks' State association at the recent Elks' convention in Los Angeles and remained in the Southwest, where he is visiting the different lodges of Southern California before his return to New York.

Among the business matters to be brought before the assembled Elks last night, following the address of the evening, was a highly but justly laudatory resolution, unanimously adopted, expressing the appreciation of the courties extended the local lodge, during convention week, by the Crescent Creamery company of Los Angeles. So highly and sincerely appreciative were the members of 794 that they have authorized the publication of the resolution in full, as it appears on page three of today's paper.

After the business session of the lodge was ended, the members present were entertained by a vaudeville act presented by members of a company now showing at a local theater.

FAT BEEF CATTLE MOVING TO MARKET

SACRAMENTO, July 27.—Fat beef cattle are moving to market rapidly, and the supply is running low, with prices advancing. So says the semi-monthly bulletin issued by the marketing committee of the California Livestock association. The bulletin follows:

The fresh and frozen meat in coolers in the United States is smaller by 109,000,000 pounds than it has been for five years at this date. Prices in Portland and Chicago have gone up in the last week approximately 1/2 cent per pound.

A number of sales of good steers have been reported from various parts of the state at 6 1/2 cents f. o. b. shipping points. Good cows have sold for an average of 5 cents f. o. b. shipping points. Cattle are moving freely to market at prevailing prices.

The fat beef cattle are moving steadily to market and it is believed the available supply of fat cattle will have been exhausted before the run of mountain and Nevada cattle be-

S. A. MAN AND HIS SON TO LEAVE ON TRIP TO EUROPE, S. AMERICA

Charles A. Kaufmann and his son, Walter Kaufmann, of the local spotlight factory bearing their name, were today completing arrangements for leaving tomorrow via the Salt Lake railroad for New York, whence they will sail on the Holland-American liner, "Ryndam" for Rotterdam.

At Rotterdam they will see many of their present customers as well as visit with relatives and later will go to Via, Germany, where they have other relatives. After visits in Germany and Switzerland, they plan to visit Paris and then will go to Belgium.

Father and son will then cross the channel to England, where they plan to sail for South America, landing at Buenos Aires and crossing to Chile and from a Chilean port they will take a north-bound coast steamer to the port of Los Angeles, returning to Santa Ana after a trip which will take from three to six months.

The following list shows the number of cattle sent to market from twenty-two counties thus far this year:

Amador, 2545; Butte, 755; Calaveras, 3022; Colusa, 1524; Contra Costa, 2962; El Dorado, 192; Fresno, 11,336; Glenn, 1360; Humboldt, 120; Imperial, 7790; Inyo, 923; Kern, 8378; Kings, 1410; Los Angeles, 582; Madera, 1970; Merced, 17,159; Monterey, 4470; Napa, 333; San Luis Obispo, 3481; Stanislaus, 21,637; Tehama, 469; Tulare, 18,519.

MAN ABSENT, DOG CASE POSTPONED

Because of the absence of one of the principal witnesses for the state, the trial of Rene Calens, rancher of the Fairview district, charged with killing a Walker foxhound declared to be worth $1000 and belonging to Clyde H. Ellis, was continued until November 1 at 2 p. m.

The case was scheduled to come up in the justice court here yesterday afternoon. Both Calens and Ellis were on hand, but another man, who, according to Deputy District Attorney C. N. Mozley, can throw considerable light on the matter, was not present.

"Well, I'm not going to inconvenience the defendant in this case by bringing him into court again in a few days," said Judge Cox. "Calens is a busy man and it is not his fault that the witnesses are not here. It is up to the district attorney's office to see that they are here."

Calens told the court he would be busy harvesting crops for some time and he could not afford to get away before late in the fall.

FIRST PEARS SHIPPED BY OAKDALE MEN

OAKDALE, July 27.—Harvest of the pear crop has begun in the Oakdale section. The first car was shipped to Lodi where it will be consolidated with shipments for the eastern markets. Eriehetto Brothers were the shippers and they are getting ready to load out two more cars for the cannery.

The pear crop in this section is very good this year, and prospects are for heavier shipments than a year ago, with good prices.

THREE MUSKETEERS OF CITY'S "FINEST" CHARGE DEN O' RATS

"Oh rats!" That is what three husky police officers said after dashing to a local hotel at 3:45 o'clock this morning.

The proprietor of the hostelry called the police at an early hour.

He had reason to believe burglars were in the place, he said. He heard weird sounds that grated on his nerves and his imagination led him to believe that a wholesale robbery of the hotel guests was about to be perpetrated.

Officers Murray, Neuschwanger and Moncrief rushed to the hotel and climbed the stairway in double quick time. They followed the proprietor to the spot when the grating sounds emanated.

The officers put their ears to the floor.

There was a moment of silence. Then Neuschwanger said:

"Oh rats!"

HEALTH OF WOMEN

How many perfectly well women do you know? Isn't it true that in order to keep up with the march of progress the endurance of women is often strained to its utmost, and the tax upon her physical system is in many cases greater than she can stand. Headaches develop, and nervous irritability, backache, dragging down sensations, and other painful ailments peculiar to women. The reliable remedy when a woman gets into such a condition is Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, as for nearly half a century it has proved the natural restorative for these troubles.—Adv.

STOCKMAN BUYS HERD POLAND CHINA HOGS

RED BLUFF, July 27.—J. I. Casale, a well-known stockman of the section about four miles south of Red Bluff, has purchased sixty head of Poland China hogs, constituting the Cook herd in Butte county. Much of the herd is said to be pure bred, and Casale plans to have an exhibit at the Tehama County fair, which is to be held near Red Bluff the first week in October.

"With prime hogs at present selling at $12 a hundred in San Francisco and barley bringing less than $1.25 per hundred, many farmers now wish they had more of this kind of stock," said H. J. Downing, secretary-manager of the Tehama county farm bureau exchange, in commenting on the situation.

SECRET SCHEME PERIL IN OIL FIGHT, CLAIM

Stockholders of the Huntington Central Oil company who are attempting to oust the present board of directors are menaced within their own group, according to a communication by C. W. Yonge to The Register today.

Yonge issued a warning that he has learned from a reliable source that a movement is on foot to secure control of the company that they might exercise just such control as the stockholders are trying to eliminate. He mentions no names.

It is probable that Yonge's warning will be taken before the meeting of the dissatisfied stockholders to be held tonight at 8 o'clock at Symphony hall, 232 South Hill street, Los Angeles.

Tonight's meeting is for the purpose of naming a board of directors which the displeased stockholders may support at an official meeting of the stockholders to be held at 10:30 a. m. August 11, at the Art Music Studio building, 233 South Broadway, Los Angeles.

Urges Clean Sweep.
Yonge today stated that he was in favor of a clean sweep of the board and against the election of any man to the board who is identified with those parties now alleged to be seeking control of the company for the purpose of "putting over" a proposition of their own.

"I want to issue a warning," says Yonge, in his letter addressed to the editor of The Register. "I have learned from a reliable source that a movement is on foot to get control of the company by other oil men. I oppose them because I believe they want just such control as is now being exercised by those we are trying to oust."

"Should they get control, there will be little or no improvement, so far as the stockholder is concerned. The small stockholder will be in as bad a muddle as he is in at this time if this group secures control."

"I want to say that I am not in favor of any company taking over this little company, unless a different proposition is presented than has been offered so far."

"Fails to See."
"Some want thirty per cent of the oil and some want only five per cent. I fail to see why we should give anyone such percentages of our oil. We can hire the best of experienced oil men at $500 a month—men who will get us results."

"Based on the rate of production of well No. 1 when it was producing, five per cent of the oil would pay the man or company holding such a contract $2600 a month. At thirty per cent of the oil, the compensation would be $15,000 per month."

"Either proposition is out of the question and should not be considered for one moment, in my opinion. If those who offer to take charge of the operation on No. 1, on the basis of five per cent of the oil, would pay their own operating expenses, their offer would not be so bad. Under their offer the company is to pay all of the operating expenses, the percentage to be net and to run for two years."

"I want to warn the stockholders that there are a number of men and companies who want to get control of this property and will resort to anything to gain their point."

"Must Watch Faction."
"While we are fighting one element we must not lose sight of the fact that the other faction is out to get control and it virtually would mean ruin if they do."

"I am in favor of at least one Santa Ana business man going on the board of directors and two from Huntington Beach. I also am in favor of having an advisory board of experienced oil men to advise our directors. I am afraid, however, that if any of the oil men mentioned up to the present get a directorship, it will mean that they want control."

The dissatisfied stockholders believe that a change in the directorate is necessary in the best interests of the company and they have succeeded in securing an official call for the special meeting of August 11.

A temporary injunction is now restraining the directors from carrying out a proposed contract to give Rhoads and Rhoads five per cent of the oil production of Well No. 1 for their services in supervising work to bring that well back to production, with the company paying all the costs of operation.

The proposed action of the present board further aroused the dissatisfied shareholders and is expected to increase further interest in the meeting tonight and in the movement to effect a change in the board of directors.

It is expected that between 500 and 600 stockholders will be present tonight, coming from all parts of Southern California.

Local stockholders have been coming to the office of Selway and Whitfield, 116 West Third street, in large numbers and signing proxies that may be used for the special meeting.

Owners of stock that has not been transferred to their names on the books of the company are warned that they must have it transferred to them before August 1 if they want to vote it at the special meeting.

$220 DUE RANCHER IS COURT RULING

J. E. Walter and company, of Anaheim today is indebted by a court order to J. F. McKinney, Bolsa rancher, in the sum of $220, which the court found was due the plaintiff because of the non-delivery of a plow which McKinney is alleged to have bought of the company.

The case was tried before Superior Judge Williams. McKinney stated on the witness stand that he bought a tractor and a plow of the company last February and that he paid $1,000 for the two implements.

McKinney said the tractor was delivered, minus several extra parts, and that he never did get the plow. Judge Williams held that McKinney was entitled to the sum of $220, representing the cost of the plow. Both plaintiff and defendant were ordered to pay separate court costs.

SHERIFF AWAITING ILLINOIS GOVERNOR

United Press Leased Wire
SPRINGFIELD, Ill., July 27.—Governor Len Small will not be arrested until he returns to Springfield.

Sheriff Henry Mester, in conference with State's Attorney Fred Mortimer, reached this conclusion today and sent the following telegram to Governor Small's attorney in Chicago:

"Replying to your telegram of last night will say that it is unnecessary for Governor Small to go to the inconvenience or trouble of submitting himself to arrest in Chicago. He can advise on his return this week and process can be served here. Please wire day Governor Small will be in Springfield for this purpose."

(Signed)
"SHERIFF HENRY MESTER."
The governor who had repeatedly declared he would call out state troops before he would submit to arrest on charges of embezzlement of large sums of state money, notified Sheriff Henry Mester last night he was ready to surrender.

Immediately after "Iron Judge" Smith of the circuit court declared "Illinois has no king," and held the governor amenable to arrest, Small went to Chicago.

After a conference with political leaders and Albert Fink, at present his chief attorney, a message was sent by Fink to Mester advising the sheriff that Governor Small would submit to arrest in Chicago today at the attorney's office.

The complete breakdown of the governor from his stand to "resist arrest" with his "entire strength" came as a result of a change in his legal advisers.

AMERICAN DOLLARS SOARING IN BRAZIL

United Press Leased Wire
RIO DE JANEIRO, July 27.—Declines in exchange today made the American dollar the strong man of South America.

Americans, tourist and residents, were in luck. Their United States dollars had practically tripled in value compared with the days before the decline. Where the Brazilian milreis once was worth 20 cents it was down around 8 cents today.

A tourist from the United States can rent an automobile for the night, attend the opera, dine well afterward at the fanciest cafe, lose a few milreis at baccarat in one of Rio's gambling houses, top his night with a good breakfast and find his entertainment has cost less than $25.

There is no lack of opportunity for these $25 nights. In fact, Brazil has embarked on such an orgy of pleasure-hunting that reformers are planning an assault on the "bathing parties" that gather on the moonlit shores and for a cleanup of the clubs and cabarets where gambling, wine, women and song are the attractions.

The moonlight "bathing parties" are first in line for attack. Reformers who have spent days—and nights—in the collection of evidence, declare that Aphrodite arising from the sea was no more of a revelation than some of the beauties who dance on the sands here. They reported sights which would shock staid old Ostend, where the one-piece bathing suit is an old story.

Bars, cabarets and gambling resorts are packed every night. Entertainers cast off all restraint and about everything else.

HUNTINGTON CENTRAL

Stockholders are hereby notified that if they hold stock not registered in their name with the company, they must have transfer made before August 1 in order to vote stock at special meeting to be held Aug. 11.

Everyone who can should proxy their stock with Selway and Whitfield, 116 West Third street, Santa Ana, at once. This is necessary in order to effect a proposed change in the directorate.

H. J. SELWAY,
Chr. Committee.

'BUNK', SAYS JACK OF MARRIAGE RUMOR

United Press Leased Wire
LOS ANGELES, July 27.—"It's the bunk!"

With this emphatic assertion, Mr. William Harrison Dempsey, heavy-weight champion, disposed of the persistent rumor that he had married Miss Sylvia Jocelyn, film scenario writer.

"I'm not married to Miss Jocelyn. I'm not engaged to her. The stories aren't true. In fact," Dempsey concluded, "they're the bunk."

Miss Jocelyn herself could not be reached.

Her mother, living in Hollywood, also denied the rumor.

"Sylvia and Jack are not engaged," said Mrs. Jocelyn, "and they most certainly have not been married."

Dempsey was divorced some years ago from his first wife, who appeared against him in the "slacker" charges preferred in San Francisco which were eventually discredited.

MARTINEZ, Cal., July 27.—Two men were killed and three injured at 9 a. m., today when a still at the Shell Oil company's refinery here exploded.

The dead are:
William Nicholson, aged 40, workman, living at Martinez.

Thomas Tarantino, aged 30, an Italian laborer.
The explosion occurred in what is known as a "turnbull" still in which the crude oil is refined and the gasoline secured as the product. Great confusion followed the explosion.

No fire followed the explosion, thus preventing far heavier property damage.
Nicholson and Tarantino were working on the still with an acetylene welding torch. The flame from the torch came in contact with gasoline vapors and a heavy explosion resulted.

The blast struck the two men full in the face. They were both terribly burned and died within a few minutes.

Tarantino is survived by a wife and three children who are now on a vacation at San Jose. Nicholson is survived by a wife and one child.

makes it a misdemeanor to carry firearms inside a game preserve, will go into effect Friday, July 23, and in order that there may be no chance for a mistake, the Cleveland preserve will be well posted, then, according to a statement made by Adkinson, anyone found within its confines, carrying firearms of any description, will be prosecuted.

HUGE BLACK-EYE BEAN YIELD TO BE HARVESTED IN COUNTY

Estimated 20,000 Acres To Produce Record Crop, Is Shown

PRICE OUTLOOK IS TOLD
Average of 1000 Pounds To Acre Is Forecast By Some Growers

Black-eye beans in Orange county will produce a crop this year three times larger than that of last year, and double an ordinary year's crop. Conservative and optimistic growers alike agree that the crop of blackeyes will exceed that of any previous year in the county's history.

Cutters will begin work in the fields this week, and expect to find the beans running 1000 pounds to the acre, though the more conservative feel that it is safe only to say that the crop will run 80 per cent of normal.

Due to drought expectancy the acreage planted to blackeyes was 250 per cent over the normal, growers said, which accounts for the enormous crop in the fact that considerable of this increased acreage was lima land. It is estimated that 20,000 acres were planted to blackeyes.

Freak Rain Comes
Usually only one inch of rain falls after May 1, and this year the weather forecasting ranchers were looking for a dry season. Nearly three inches of rain, however, fell upon the lands after the middle of that month.

Decidedly more profitable crops could have been planted, ranchers admit, but with the market down on all agricultural products their foresight has stood them in good stead. In ordinary years, black-eyes are planted only in the least fertile acres or as a summer fill-in.

Black-eyes will appear on the market in the later part of August, according to present indications. Futures are being bought and sold now, it is said, with prices running at 4 cents.

Reticent on Prices
Growers are reticent in naming the price they expect to get for their crop, but with the market down on all agricultural products their foresight has stood them in good stead. In ordinary years, black-eyes are planted only in the least fertile acres or as a summer fill-in.

To corroborate their estimates, these authorities call attention to the price of wheat and barley, the low level of which, they declare, is bound

Women Give Recipes For Making Satsuma Plum Preserves

Do you know how to preserve satsuma plums?
Here are three recipes offered by women who are readers of The Register:

To two quarts of plums add one quart of soft peaches, one quart of sugar, cook about two hours, stir practically all the time. All fruit must be very ripe to make good jam.

Five pounds of pitted satsuma plums, four pounds of sugar, one-half cup of vinegar, one-half tablespoon ground cloves, one-half tablespoon ground cinnamon; boil one hour; makes about five and a half pints.

Green satsumas, with a green tart apple or two added to insure its being jelly, makes a fine jelly; very much like currant in flavor.

YORBA LINDA CENTER IS PLANNING PICNIC

The proof that farm center interest does not suffer in the summer months during the adjournment of regular monthly meetings and that the people choose to assemble every few weeks for a pleasure session at least, is shown by the fact that the Yorba Linda farm center is planning a community picnic. Either the beach for the county park will be the scene of this event. The date has not yet been announced, but very probably will be the afternoon and evening of August 16.

Several of the other farm centers in the county are contemplating such gatherings before September, when the regular meetings are resumed for the coming year.

AVOCADO GROWERS FORM DEPARTMENT

Last week at a special session of the Yorba Linda farm center an avocado section of this organization was started. Dr. Lester Keller, W. H. Holloway and Mr. Wheaton were among the speakers of the evening. Yorba Linda is rapidly growing into one of the largest and most important centers for growing of this semi-tropical fruit. With this fact in front of them, the farm center of that district decided starting this fall to make every third farm center meeting a session at which there will be discussion of avocados and which in general will boost the industry. Speakers from various parts of the state will be brought to these meetings to give the growers all the information possible on the industry. The group of growers decided to go on masse to the avocado association field meet at Puente, July 30. About twelve machines will make the trip, each carrying a banner reading about as follows: "First Farm Bureau Avocado Section in the World." At this demonstration such subjects as cleft and side grafting, as well as pruning the avocado, will be discussed.

HOLDS HOPE FOR HIGHER TARIFF IN SENATE

Swing Tells Battle Waged In House For Increase In Duties

That the California delegation in its fight in the house at Washington secured the very best possible tariffs for California products is declared by Congressman Phil D. Swing in a personal letter received in Santa Ana today from Swing.

Regretting the inability of the delegation to secure a higher tariff on beans and walnuts than was secured, Swing says that some of the industries will have a chance to secure better tariffs in the senate.

"I think we have a right to feel pleased with the result, which has now been reached, by the house voting to retain the 2 cents a pound on fresh lemons and increasing the rate of citric acid from 10 cents to 12 cents, and also increasing the rate on citrate of lime from 2 1/2 cents to 7 cents.

Cites Hard Task.
"California has so many varied interests which have to be represented and taken care of that we were up against a difficult task."

"I thought that the rate on most of our products was lower than it should be but I find on inquiry that practically every other congressman thought the same way regarding the industries in which he was personally interested."

"The ways and means committee tried to hold a certain ratio between various sections of the country and to carry the same rate of protection throughout the whole United States."

"However, we determined to make one last effort to better the situation of the California industries and got the entire California delegation to appear and back us up in our request. After a half day's presentation we got the increase hereinbefore referred to on lemon by-products, also got an increase on shelled almonds from 8 cents a pound to 12 cents a pound and on shelled walnuts from 5 cents a pound to 7 1/2 cents a pound. We also got an increase on beans from 1 1/4 cents a pound to 1 3/4 cents a pound. For Imperial valley I secured a tariff on long staple cotton over 1 1/8 inches long of 15 cents ad valorem."

Thankful For Increase.
"This is not as much as we asked for but we were thankful to get the increase. Beans and walnuts should have been higher but beans are considered a household necessity and it was impossible to get the votes to raise the rate any higher in the house. There were other products, such as eggs and honey, with which we were not so successful."

"I am satisfied we did the best we could in the house. Those industries

OPEN OFFICE OF COUNTY'S FARM LABOR BODY

Association's Director of Employment Begins His Duties

J. F. Jackson, director of employment for the Orange County Farm Labor association, today opened the association employment bureau at 404 1/2 East Fourth street, in a small building formerly used as an employment office.

Equipment for the office was partially installed and Jackson was in position to take care of some demands. It probably will be some days before he will have the situation fully in hand.

He expects to make a complete survey of the county in ascertaining the labor needs of farmers, and when he has completed this he will have the names of farmers who employ large numbers of men and their labor requirements at different periods of the year.

The services of the bureau will be free to laborers, some of the large ranch owners and grower associations financing the employment office.

Directors and officers of the association are as follows:

D. Eymann Huff, manager Hewes estate, El Modena, president; C. V. Newman, manager San Joaquin Fruit company, vice-president; W. J. Cheney, director Lima Bean Growers' association, secretary; W. G. Mitchell, manager, Irvine Ranch company; C. A. Johnson, manager Holly Sugar corporation; Harry W. Lewis, president Santa Ana Walnut Growers' association; Dr. I. G. McBeth, manager Bastanchury ranch, Fullerton; John Osterman, El Toro; Hugh Thomson, Villa Park; C. L. Crumrine, manager La Habra Citrus association.

State Farm News

OROVILLE.—Soils of the foothill country about Oroville have their adaptability for a wide diversity of crops, and now comes the proof that tobacco can be produced here. W. J. Brown, of Enterprise, declared Saturday that a crop of tobacco which he planted from the Connecticut seed lot is flourishing. This is a high grade tobacco from which cigars are made, and conditions here, in both soil and climate, seem to be ideal for this plant.

REDDING.—Farmers are threshing wheat. The yield is far short of what it was last year. The hot winds shrivelled the grain, making the wheat light and of poor quality. What is sold brings only $2 a hundred in the local market. The price at this time last season was $4 a hundred. Barley being marketed brings just about one-third the price paid last year.

DOYLE (Lassen Co.).—Owing to prevalence of the alfalfa weevil in Nevada, the state horticultural commission, through County Horticultural Commissioner Taylor, has appointed H. Hutchinson as quarantine officer at Doyle. All auto tourists bedding is examined and close inspection is made of all passengers bedding on the Reno-Westwood stage.

FOWLER (Fresno Co.).—The first peaches of the season grown here for shipment have just been received and sent in large boxes by express to Los Angeles. The fruit was Early Crawford and was grown on the Dick Bormanian place. From the packing house a carload of plums was shipped Monday and peaches will begin going out in carloads at once.

NAPA.—Through efforts of Napa County Farm Advisor H. J. Baade, the entire plum crop of this county will be disposed of to the Co-operative Cannery at San Jose. Twenty plums are bringing 4 cents per pound in the city market, while yellow egg plums have no sale outside of local consumption. The plum crop, according to Farm Advisor Baade, is only about a 50 per cent crop this year.

STOCKTON.—Italian Vineyard company will show a great herd of big-type Berkshires on a show circuit taking in the state fair, at Sacramento; San Joaquin Valley Livestock show, at Stockton; Fresno district fair, Ventura county fair, Southern California fair, at Riverside, and possibly the California International, at San Francisco.

ALTURAS (Moroc Co.).—On Monday, July 18, forty-five cars of sheep were shipped from here to Denver, Colo. O. B. Burnett, of the Hanks Brothers Commission company of Ogden and Denver, arranged with the local sheepmen for the shipment.

URGES INCREASE IN RAISING OF HOGS HERE

Citing the fact that there are in Orange county considerable areas of land that will never be suitable for the growing of trees or for very high development along agricultural lines, J. R. Waters, assistant farm advisor, today suggested that such lands be devoted to the raising of hogs.

"At the present time," said Waters, "it is estimated from market reports that California as a state produces approximately one-third the pork consumed within its boundaries. Each year the number of breeders is greater and gradually the total number of hogs increases."

"For several years the building of a union stock yards in Southern California has been agitated. If such should be done the swine industry would advance rapidly and there would be little need of shipping Middle Western pork for consumption on this coast."

"Orange, like almost every other county, has a considerable area of land that will never afford trees or very high development. It is upon such ranches that hogs can be raised profitably."

"There are now some five commercial breeders of purebred swine in this county, besides the many ranchers growing out one or two for their own butchering."

"Indian corn is the best fattening grain for hogs. Barley, milo, and kaffir corn are 90 to 95 per cent as efficient as Indian corn. They all feed supplementing with a protein feed."

"Tankage, wheat middlings, coconut meal, linseed meal, soy beans, skin milk and buttermilk are some of the best protein supplements to use with barley, milo, corn and other low-protein grains. Of the forage crops, alfalfa, clover, soybeans, cowpeas, and rape are the best for supplying protein."

"Barley, wheat, rye, milo, kaffir and other small grains could be ground or rolled. Soaking serves the same purpose with barley, wheat, and rye, but it is not so good with the sorghum grains."

"Soaking ground grain is unnecessary. Fresh slops are usually safer than those which have stood for some time, especially in warm weather."

EGG PRODUCTION RECORD CLAIMED

Claiming the county record, J. B. Wine, 711 East Pine street, today reported that fourteen of his hens laid 1294 eggs during the six months ending June 30, last.

Regardless of this high mark, Wine recites a few of the incidents which kept his hens from reaching greater production.

Included in the fourteen hens are three bantams. One of the bantam was long on setting and after laying three or four eggs would go on strike and insist on setting. She raised two broods, six weeks of her time being consumed in this way. She spent other periods in being "broken up." This bantam, with two mixed Ancona bantams, raised about twenty-five chickens.

The others in the flock that produced the egg record were three white leghorns, six anconas and two silver-laced wyandottes. A number of these were out of commission for a time as laying hens because they wanted to set and were penned to break up their desire to raise a brood.

Wine's log for the six months reads as follows:
January, 152 eggs; February, 210; March, 247; April, 242; May, 238; June, 205; total, 1294.

CENSUS REVEALS BIG GAIN MADE BY VALENCIA PRODUCTION IN COUNTY

728,140 Trees In 1920 Are Not Yet Bearing, Is Shown In Report

WALNUT FIGURES GIVEN
Cal. Production of Fruits Is Told In Statistics of Government

The standing of Orange county as a producer of Valencia oranges is being lifted a notch or two year by year.

This is revealed in a 32-page bulletin from California agriculture just received by The Register from the census bureau.

The fact that Orange county had a great number of orchards in the first and second year of bearing is responsible for the fact that the per tree production in Orange county in 1919, as shown by the 1920 census figures, was lower than the Los Angeles per tree production.

The federal census shows the average production per orange tree in San Bernardino county as 2.3 boxes, in Los Angeles county as 3.2 boxes, Orange 2.4 boxes, Riverside 1.4 boxes and Tulare 1 box. The average ages of the trees are probably responsible, to a large extent, for the differences in the tree production.

The census says that in 1919 San Bernardino county produced 5,102,958 boxes of oranges from 2,334,245 trees of bearing age. Los Angeles produced 8,240,673 boxes from 2,264,172 trees of bearing age, says the report. Orange county produced 3,486,304 boxes from 1,434,078 trees, Riverside 1,494,602 boxes from 1,047,343 trees, Tulare county 2,107,974 boxes from 2,041,277 trees.

State Production
The production in the state was 21,628,444 boxes from 10,297,593 trees of bearing age, a state average of 2.1 boxes to a tree.

The lemon figures are: San Bernardino, 802,086 boxes from 293,499 trees, or 2.8 boxes per tree; Orange, 868,773 boxes from 490,204 trees, or 1.8 boxes per tree; Riverside, 683,333 boxes from 320,066 trees, or 2.1 boxes per tree; Los Angeles, 2,147,900 boxes from 829,286 trees, or 2.5 boxes per tree; Ventura county, 840,188 boxes from 407,369 trees, or 2.0 boxes per tree; San Diego county, 813,365 boxes from 278,480 trees, or 2.9 boxes per tree.

The census shows a vast quantity of citrus fruit loads were not yet bearing in 1920. Orange county leads and most of its 728,140 unbearing trees are Valencia. Other figures are: San Bernardino, 350,659 trees; Riverside, 134,653 trees; Los Angeles, 549,361 trees; Tulare, 527,294 trees.

With lemons, the unbearing trees number: San Bernardino, 100,508; Orange, 72,319; Riverside, 72,212; Los Angeles, 226,265.

NEW DAIRY LAWS OF INTEREST IN COUNTY

Several laws pertaining to the dairy industry were passed by the last legislature and have received the signature of the governor. These laws go into effect about August 1.

Senate bill 117 provides a means whereby the owners of bottles or other equipment may protect themselves from loss. The procedure is for the owner of such bottles or other equipment to mark them with his name or other device, file a description of such mark or device with the county clerk and with the secretary of state, and publish same in a newspaper of the county once a week for three successive weeks. It is then a misdemeanor for anyone else to use such bottles or other equipment and if anyone does so use them the owner may obtain a search warrant and seize same.

Senate bill 275, by Senator Harris, reenacts the standards for dairy products and empowers the director of agriculture to establish a standard of moisture for cheese. The present standards are in no way changed. The effect of the law is to eliminate the uncertainties and confusion introduced into the situation through the passage, by a previous legislature, of a general food law which established the federal standards for foods for interstate shipment. For many dairy products these federal standards were materially at variance with state standards and may have invalidated them. This bill makes their validity unquestionable.

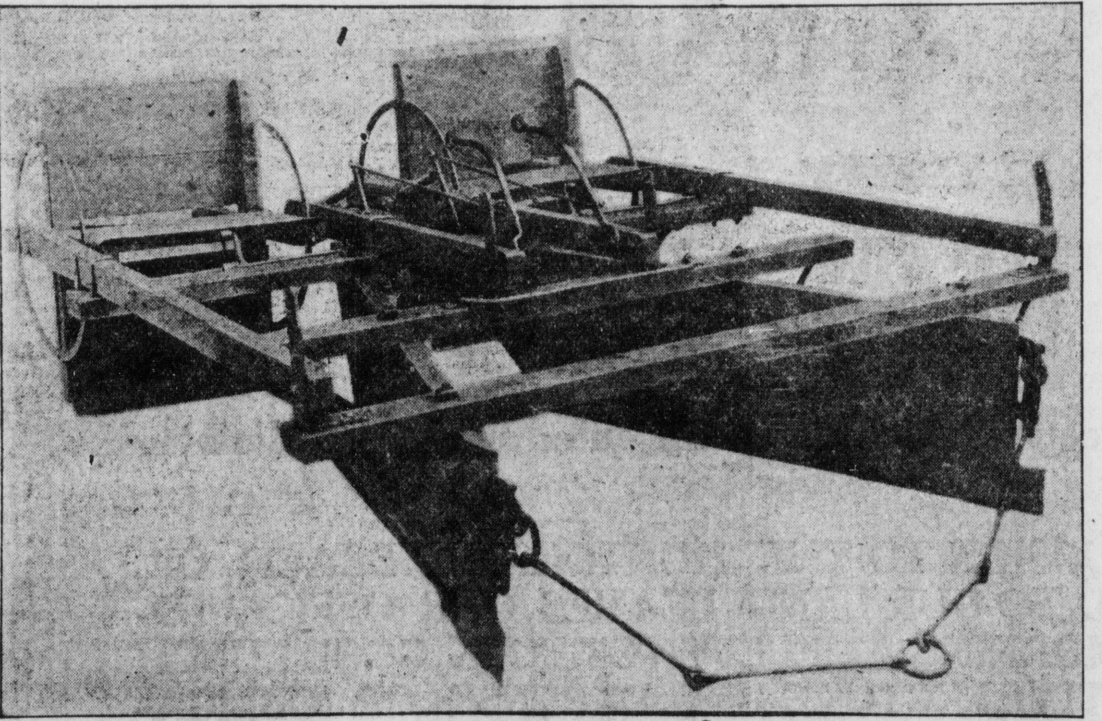

Senate bill 498, by Senator Harris, provides conditions for the Babcock testing of milk and cream. The principal provisions are:

Milk tests are to be read from the bottom of the fat column to the top of the top meniscus.

Cream tests are to be read from the bottom of the fat column to bottom of the top meniscus or to the

OAKLAND WOMAN IS NOW WELL AND HAPPY

"I weighed only one hundred and ten pounds a short while ago, but Tanlac has built me up so fast that I now weigh one hundred and twenty-five pounds," said Mrs. Annie Johnson, 1470 66th St., Oakland, Cal.

"Two years ago my health began to fail and before long I was in a badly run-down condition. I began to fall off in weight and lose my strength and energy, and my housework became a burden. Then last spring I had the 'flu' and, as I was already in a weakened condition, my case was serious. I was down in bed for fourteen days and it just seemed to effect my whole system. My appetite left me and my stomach was often sour and I suffered a lot from gas. There was a continual pressure through my chest, and I had such terrible pains around my heart that I was beginning to fear I had heart trouble. My nerves were in a wretched condition and I became easily excited and at times felt like I was fainting. I had rheumatic pains all through my shoulders, and between this and my other troubles I could hardly get any rest or sleep at all. I was so weak that I frequently gave out during the day and had to stop and lie down. But I'm so glad I tried Tanlac, for my days of suffering are now over and I feel as well and happy as I ever did in my life. Everything I eat digests perfectly, my nerves are so steady I go to sleep almost as soon as my head touches the pillow. I haven't a pain about me and can now do my housework with as much ease as ever."

Tanlac is sold in Santa Ana by Rowley Drug Co., and by leading druggists everywhere.

HOLDS OUT HOPE FOR HIGHER TARIFF, SENATE

that feel that they are not sufficiently protected still have the opportunity to make their fight in the senate and I have no doubt that some of them will succeed. The senate has more lenient rules regarding amendments than the house has.

"Anyway, the tariff bill is miles ahead of what we have been laboring under the past eight years."

counties also show considerable number of new trees.

Various comparisons on the total figures for the state include:

Oranges, number of bearing trees in 1920, 10,297,593; in 1910, 8,615,805; production in 1920, 21,628,444 boxes; in 1910, 14,436,180 boxes.

Lemons, number of bearing trees in 1920, 2,834,770; in 1910, 941,293; production in 1920, 6,551,657 boxes; in 1910, 2,756,221 boxes.

Grapefruit, number of bearing trees in 1920, 231,136; in 1910, 43,424; production in 1920, 465,085 boxes; in 1910, 122,515 boxes.

Number of tangerines in 1910 was 3637; number in 1920 was 2475. This shows a decrease.

Limes are scarcer than hen's teeth, for in 1910 only 13 bearing trees were reported, and in 1920 only 120.

SAN BERNARDINO SUMMER COLONY AT BALBOA

BALBOA, July 27.—Summer by summer since several well known families established homes at Balboa beach, the San Bernardino colony has grown, and now the list of families coming here for their summer outings is quite a long one, and on week-ends and Sundays, many other visitors from San Bernardino are encountered, on the streets, the bathing beach or along the wharf, or bay promenade.

Everyone from San Bernardino is interested in seeing W. R. Dowler, district freight and passenger agent, of the Santa Fe, who is recuperating in the sea air from his recent illness. Mr. and Mrs. Dowler are occupying a cozy cottage, "Nora nook" on Bay avenue, and the former holds almost regular reception hours on Saturday and Sunday. All friends of the genial and widely-known railroad man, will be glad to know that he is improving finely, is optimistic and always glad to see his friends. He was a guest at a dinner party given at the beautiful home of the Simonds on Bay front recently, which sounds like quite a celebration. Mrs. Dowler's brother-in-law, Mr. Shaver, and daughter, of Riverside, were the Dowler's guests over the week-end. W. A. Manson spent Sunday here with Mrs. Manson and the children, Olive, Isabelle and Bryne, who are at their very attractive cottage in Bay avenue for the summer and until school opens.

A group of San Bernardino friends were delightfully entertained at a bridge party by Mrs. Manson, during the visit of Mrs. Walter E. Byrne to the family. Score was kept for the game on cute little Japanese lanterns fastened to Japanese umbrellas. The rooms were decorated in bouquets and baskets of flowers, and Japanese umbrellas in gay colors, the oriental motif being carried out in the handsome trophies also. Miss Fred Atwood and Mrs. R. C. Harbison, who won honors and points, received decorated Japanese plates, and Mrs. Marion K. Parsons, of Oakland, a Japanese doll in the costume of a mandarin. Ice cream, cake, nuts, sweets and coffee were served, after the contest. In the company having the happy visit together were: Mesdames Leon Atwood, Marion Kendall Brackett, Y. J. Peacock, G. P. Hambricht, Gladys K. Parsons, H. M. Barton, R. C. Harbison, Miss Clara Barton and Miss Bess Willis.

Week-End Guests
 District Attorney T. W. Duckworth and Mrs. Duckworth spent the week-end with their daughter, Mrs. G. F. Hambricht and family, who are occupying the H. M. Barton home, La Florencia, on Ocean avenue. Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Norman, of Los Angeles, the latter a sister of Mrs. Duckworth, were down over Sunday, and another sister, Mrs. Harlow and family, are staying at Balboa.

Dr. and Mrs. C. B. Hutchason were at La Sista over the week-end, visiting with the latter's grandmother, Mrs. Jennie G. Carson, who is spending the summer at the beach cottage. The Leon Atwoods and the G. A. Atwoods are both in summer headquarters at Balboa, for the season, occupying their own beach home. Mrs. J. A. Cole and sister, Miss Len Waters, are at Mrs. Cole's cottage, La Madrina, on the ocean front. Miss Waters will remain down during her vacation, and later Miss Carrie Waters will join her sister.

Miss Bess Willis, of Pasadena, formerly of San Bernardino, is spending some time at Balboa, being located at a house near the bay, "Seldom Inn" Hospitality. The H. M. Bartons are occupying their smaller house, "Seldom Inn" this summer. Mrs. Barton and Miss Clara Barton being there for the season. Merrilee Barton, who is attending summer school at U. S. C., was down for a week-end visit. Other guests entertained over Saturday and Sunday, were Mr. and Mrs. Sherman Batchelor and children, Brenda and Neal, Miss Mary Barton.

Mr. and Mrs. F. W. Holmes and two sons were at Balboa Sunday, and secured quarters for August near the ocean front. They were visitors last season.

Miss Victoria Katz and sister, Mrs. Gladys K. Parsons, and Miss Eleanor Parsons have an apartment at the Saltair apartments on the ocean. Leo Stromee spent Sunday with his family, who have prolonged their stay at the beach.

Fish Banquet
 Mrs. R. C. Harbison and son, Bob, who are among the "regulars" at Balboa, are spending the summer again in Alvarado street near the bay, convenient to boats, wharf and fishing. On Sunday Mr. and Mrs. Harry S. Webster and son, Gordon, and Miss Winifred Martin, drove down from San Bernardino and enjoyed the household at the Sunday morning breakfast hour. A fish banquet and fried chicken feed was combined with other good things which did not go "begging" after the absorption of a little ocean ozone by the crowd. Mr. and Mrs. Z. T. Bell spent the week-end at the Harbison cottage at the end of Elks' week.

Mr. and Mrs. M. R. Standish and children spent Sunday at Balboa beach. Mrs. A. G. Kendall, who is spending the summer at Balboa, has her daughter, Mrs. George S. Brackett of Oakland and son with her. Mr. Kendall was down over the week-end.

The A. M. Ham home on the ocean is rented until the middle of August when the family will occupy it until the middle of September. The Hams were pioneers on the ocean front, and their comfortable house was built several years ago.

The Christensen yard was covered with canvas with a large bonfire around the side and Japanese lanterns strung overhead. This was called "stunt night" and the young people set in a circle and were entertained by the various guests.

About fifty were present and were served with sandwiches and cocoa before their departure.

FULLERTON BOY WINS COVETED SCHOLARSHIP

FULLERTON, July 27.—Honor has again come to another one of Fullerton's local boys, thus establishing the fact that the name of Fullerton is being taken far and wide as a synonym of ability and achievement.

That James Sheppard Jr., who is the son of Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Sheppard of 337 East Chapman avenue, was awarded a scholarship in the graduate college of Princeton university for the ensuing year became known here today. These scholarships are unusually difficult of attainment by reason of the fact that they are few in number and also because the membership of the graduate college is limited. Awards are made upon the basis of ability and attainment, and the award comes as a signal honor to young Sheppard.

Occidental Graduate
 Graduating from Fullerton union high school in 1916, where he was prominent in student life and also held the position of president of the student body, Sheppard entered Occidental college in 1917, where he has been in attendance until the date of his graduation in 1921, save for an interval of six months, during which time he was in the service of the United States army during the period of the war. His record at Occidental is one of achievement, he being prominent in many student and scholastic activities.

Class Orator
 For two years he was president of the Occidental college glee club, was prominent as an inter-collegiate debater, being a member of two state championship teams, and was also president of the associated students during his senior year in that institution. Sheppard was also a member of the Burke Economics club, of the Press club, of the O. M. A. fraternity, and of Tau Kappa Alpha national honorary debating fraternity. He graduated with first honors in academic work, and was class orator at the annual commencement exercises.

Sheppard will enter Princeton in the fall, where he will secure his Masters' degree.

 Dr. Roy Byram and Wilbur Byram, who left for the mountains above Hemet Wednesday of last week, returned home last Friday morning on an early hour, following an all-night drive.

They were accompanied home by Glen Byram, who has been working in the fruit at Hemet during the season. The camping party also included William Kerr, of this place, who has not yet returned and another friend from the fruit camp.

Miss Neida Michel was the week-end guest of Miss Leora Blakey, returning Monday evening to Santa Ana, where she is spending a two weeks' vacation at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. August Michel, 1015 West Second street.

Miss Michel is a graduate nurse and is holding the responsible position of head nurse of one of the floors of the Methodist hospital of Los Angeles, of which institution she is a recent graduate.

PROPER DIET FOR TROUT IS SOUGHT

YELLOWSTONE PARK, Wyo., July 27.—Thousands of trout are in the wrong "boarding house," declares Prof. R. A. Muttowicki of the University of Idaho, who is here trying to figure out a carefully selected diet for each species.

Certain types of trout should be planted in streams where the bugs and insects are to their liking, he believes. And because they are not so planted, there is a waste of thousands of fish each year.

"Trout are particular regarding what they eat," he says. "If we can select the right place for the right fish there will be a marked decrease in the number of trout that die. My work is to determine just where various varieties of trout should be, and this is based on what bugs and insects they are fond of."

Bread, cakes, pies, delivered with our ice cream orders at the Dragon.

brother-in-law of Mrs. George B. Nichols, was a Sunday afternoon visitor at the Nichols home.

The Misses Ruby and Marie Vandrunft motored to Ontario Sunday afternoon and remained for the evening.

Mr. and Mrs. W. G. Alford and son, Russell, drove to Riverside Sunday and were guests for the day at the Harold Almind home.

BICYCLES AND CASH

Boys And Girls Can Get Both With A Little Effort

---The boys and girls who are now working in The Register's Bicycle Campaign are asked to call at the Register office and receive some instructions that will help them in the campaign. The Register wants to see all its workers successful and will do what it can to help them. There is still plenty of time to earn a fine bicycle. A little enthusiasm is all it will take. Come hear what the circulation man has to say.

---THE REGISTER HAS A SUGGESTION THAT WILL HELP THE BOYS AND GIRLS WIN.

Connie Mack Defends Players On Great Team As New Inquiry Looms

By HENRY L. FARRELL (United Press Staff Correspondent)

NEW YORK, July 27.—Ban Johnson's statement that more ball players are liable to be put on the carpet after the "black Sox" are tried, started some of last winter's skeletons shaking in their closet.

Connie Mack and his 1914 Athletics are being brought into the stories, it being said that if the gaunt Philadelphia leader gave the real reason for breaking up his great machine after it had lost four straight to the Boston Braves it would be a sensation.

Mack, however, has an answer to that. In a message to the United Press he says:

"Such stories are too ridiculous to merit a reply. The Athletic players were clean and they are still clean, as can be shown by the players who are still in the game. I have stated many times why my 1914 team was broken up."

Benny Kauff, who was mentioned in the "confession" of Heinie Zimmerman, is still out of the game, although he was cleared of the charge of grand larceny in connection with a stolen automobile for which Judge Landis suspended him from the game.

McGraw Under Bail in Attack Action

PITTSBURGH, Pa., July 27.—John McGraw, pugacious pilot of the New York Giants, was at liberty under $3,000 bail today following the serving of a capias in a $20,000 suit brought against him here by George M. Duffy, who alleges McGraw struck him during an argument.

Duffy alleges the attack occurred during the Giants' last trip here June 3. He said he was invited by an official of the New York club to his rooms in the Schenley hotel. While there, he said, he discovered McGraw in an intoxicated condition. He endeavored to aid McGraw and was rendered unconscious by a blow.

EVENING SALUTATION

"There is a limit to enjoyment, though the sources of wealth be boundless.
And the choicest pleasures of life lie within the ring of moderation."

THE FARM BUBBLE

Mayer Rothschild is reputed to have been the first to say that he made money by never buying at the top price or selling at the bottom. Many men have exploited their prosperity on similar grounds. Many more might explain their financial difficulties by their failure to follow his example. A good many American farmers, for instance.

The 1920 census figures, which have just been released, tell the story. They indicate that in the feverish post-war years, speculation was nowhere carried to greater extremes than by the owners of the soil.
In 1910 the total value of the nation's farm lands was $6,330,000,000. In 1920, although the increase in acreage was negligible, the value was fixed at $13-772,000,000. Here is inflation with a vengeance.

During the war wheat reached $3.50, corn $2.31, and live hogs $23.60. It is no wonder that the man who purchased farm lands in those days is discontented when his hogs bring only $10 a hundred, his corn 63 cents a bushel, and his wheat only $1.30. The farm bought in war time can hardly pay the interest.
Yet farm lands throughout the middle west were sold and re-sold at enormously increased prices, or leased for long periods at rentals which could only be met if the prices of products remained inflated.
In 1910 the farm mortgages of the nation amounted to $1,726,000,000. Last year they totaled $4,012-000,000, an increase of 132.5 per cent.

A burden such as this laid upon the nation's agriculture is hard to bear, but the farmers can hardly claim to be altogether innocent victims. The bursting of their bubble hurt. The real remedy does not lie with the government, however, with treasury-financed schemes for marketing their products or with wholesale price-fixing. The remedy lies in adjustment to changed conditions, and the quicker the better for all concerned.

CENTRAL AMERICAN LEAGUE

There is likely to be a Central American league of nations. It may even be a United States of Central America.

Such a union has long been contemplated, but Nicaragua has held aloof because she feared to jeopardize her treaty rights with the United States. Nicaragua prizes her relations with this country particularly because of the treaty which gives the United States the right to build a canal across Nicaraguan territory.
Such a canal would benefit the country greatly. The United States may build it, too, some time, in spite of the present adequacy of the Panama Canal. It is a good route, which was long preferred to the Panama route, and if traffic ever taxes the present canal, or an earthquake destroys it, or war imperils it, it may prove well to have two strings to Uncle Sam's bow.

Nicaragua has now received assurance from Washington that the United States will be pleased, rather than otherwise, to see the Central American union made complete. Nicaragua, therefore, which constitutes the keystone, has signified her willingness to join Costa Rica, Honduras, Guatemala and Salvador, which have already got such a union under way.

It will be an excellent thing for the whole hemisphere if those five little countries, each insignificant in itself but full of potential trouble, can manage to frame up a working agreement and operate as a practical unit politically. It will mean peace in a long-disturbed area. A Central American union, too, may be a precursor to an effective Pan-American union, long-dreamed of but not yet brought to full realization.

CO-OPERATIVE DEFLATION

Employees of the American Manganese Manufacturing Company at Dunbar, Pa., have had their wages cut 40 per cent, and they are satisfied. The reason for their contentment lies in the fact that their expenses have been cut to the same extent.

The manager of the plant, receiving orders from Philadelphia to shut down for lack of orders, figured out a plan to keep the plant running. It was to lower the cost of production immediately. That meant lowering wages. That, in turn, meant lowering the cost of living to the employees.

He talked it over with the workmen and business men. If the plant closed, it meant a dead town. The company agreed to cut the rent 40 per cent on the houses it owned and the supplies it sold. Other landlords and merchants were persuaded to fall into line.
The employees thereupon agreed cheerfully to the 40 per cent wage cut, and everything is going finely. It is understood that as normal industrial conditions return, the company will meet the wages of similar plants elsewhere.

The same thing has been done, with a smaller rate of reduction, by a coal and coke company at Star Junction, Pa. It is an inspiring and instructive example of what might be termed co-operative deflation.

SMUTS FOR PREMIER

Sir Philip Gibbs has precipitated a lot of discussion by nominating Jan Smuts for the next premier of Great Britain. The British premier, as most Americans know, is the real head of the British Empire, possessing power greater than that of any other ruler in the world, with the possible exception of the president of the United States.

The audacity of this suggestion lies in the fact that Smuts is in no sense an Englishman or a Briton, but a full-blooded Boer, who fought against the British in the Boer War. That is hard for a Briton to forget, even after Smuts has ruled South Africa fairly and ably for years as premier of that dominion, and has proved his loyalty to the empire most amply throughout the World War and since, and has undertaken the Herculean task of bringing Ireland into agreement with England, and is rated by many capable observers besides Sir Philip, in many lands, as the ablest and most honest leader in the British Empire today.

If Lloyd George steps down, it would be an admirable choice, from the American standpoint. Lloyd George is recognized as an able opportunist. He gets things done. But his ideals are not high. Smuts is regarded by his admirers as a man of vision and unswerving integrity, with imagination enough to strike out into new paths and the strength of mind and will to succeed without trades or tricks.

Yet Great Britain has never had any but a British premier, and is hardly ready yet to accept one. Some day, though, it will surely come. The dominions are growing up. South Africa, Australia and New Zealand are today held to the mother country by little more than sentiment and self-interest. They are asserting themselves in London more and more strongly.

The present imperial conference has shown them already out of hand. It is only a question of time when they will stand forth as equals in a British federation of republics, with equal claims to the foremost places in the central government, if the empire is to hold together at all.

BUTTERED TIBETANS

Tibet has long been a land of mystery to the western world. Now it is being opened up to visitors from other countries, and its customs are chronicled where all may read and marvel. Reading them, the average American is pretty likely to conclude that he's thankful he is an American.

The current number of "Asia" contains pictures and paragraphs portraying the life and customs of the "domain of the living Buddhas." Through them all runs the theme of butter, apparently Tibet's favorite food, dress, decoration, fuel and face lotion. One paragraph tells most of the tale.

"Milking is one of the chief duties of the Tibetan woman. Yet in a land where cows and yaks abound, there is no fresh milk. Tibetans say that they drink buttermilk because sweet milk impedes the breathing, but only by churning all the milk can they be sure of having enough butter. They burn butter in their lamps; they color it and mold it into patterns upon cakes that adorn their altars. They eat it and wear it.
Soldiers' rations include sheep's bladders of butter;
travelers carry them on a journey; housewives keep them hanging in the kitchen—for years, if possible, for they prize rancid butter as Westerners do ripe cheese and old wine. In the winter, both men and women smear themselves with butter until they shine and reek with it. They feed themselves with buttered tea—a soup made of boiled tea, strained through a sieve and then churned with butter and thickened with "tsamba" or parched barley meal. Hospitable Tibetans tax the politeness of shivering, unbuttered guests by adding an extra lump of long-aged butter as a special compliment."

It's perfectly all right, of course. Tibetans have as good a right to their little whims and fancies as anybody else. Nevertheless, if you are circling the globe next year here is warning of at least one country into which you might prefer to carry your own provisions in good old American tin cans.

IMMIGRANTS ON THE LAND

From some recent demands that the immigrant be compelled by legislation to take up agriculture in his adopted land, one might imagine that none but native Americans were engaged in farming. The June-July issue of "Foreign-born" is largely devoted to the subject of the immigrant in American agriculture. Its various statements show that not only do many immigrants find their way to the farmlands of the nation, but that they succeed there.

An American near New Orleans is credited with having the largest silk-worm nursery in the world.
There are Czech agricultural settlements in 30 states, Wisconsin leading with 145 of these colonies. There are Italian farmers in Connecticut, and Poles in Massachusetts. Of the latter, one writer says, "In three generations many of them have passed through successive stages as farm laborers, tenants and land owners of some of the most valuable acres."

It is undoubtedly true that many immigrants come to our shores with high hopes which are never fulfilled.
This is America's fault, in many cases, as much as the immigrant's. To a great many others, however, this is the land of happy fulfillment as well as of promise.

Prevent These Fires

This is the season when forest fires are prevalent wherever timber grows and dry underbrush is thick.
These fires are all of human origin, the result of carelessness, ignorance, carelessness and laziness. In the summer in California we cannot blame a forest fire on "the lightning," for we have no thunderstorms in the summer.

A lighted cigar or cigarette flung from a speeding automobile into the dry grass by the roadside is ill-ly to start a disastrous conflagration. This is a resulting from selfishness; the smoker consulted his own convenience.

Campers in the woods often leave their camp fires smoldering. Forest fires from this source are the result of ignorance, carelessness and laziness.
Persons who do not know how to extinguish a campfire after they have cooked over it should not "go camping;" fools should be kept out of our forests.
Hunters who shoot over dry stubble or through dry underbrush often set fires from their burning cartridges. This is selfishness. It is easy enough to procure non-inflammable hunting tools.

If every community in California would determine at the beginning of each summer to be careful in the use of fire in the woods or on the route of their excursions, there would be no forest or brush fires.

The precaution is vitally important for many reasons, chief among which is the risk of property loss, and the fact that when our forests are gone our water supply will be diminished to the equation between floods and droughts.

It is bad enough to cut our timber for commercial uses without regard for future contingencies and emergencies, but it is even worse to destroy it wantonly—that sort of destruction is foolish and criminal.

About This Time o' Year

Today's Talk

NEVER GIVE UP

A thrilling story was published in the metropolitan papers of New York recently.

A very poor, foreign artist who worked in a little room in Greenwich Village at his art, was suddenly advised that given his humble abode rent money was necessary. But he had none to give! So he was shoved out.

He was poorly nourished. His clothes were all on his back. And not any too much at that.

It was a dark day indeed for this young chap. I can imagine all he felt. But on the very day that he was put out, he received a letter. The letter stated that his painting which he had on exhibition in the country of his birth, had won a scholarship which included three years study with all expenses paid!

You never know when the thing you most desire is going to come around.

The important task for us all is to keep getting ready. It's the unready, the non-preparing, that are shoved aside, and place given to him who knows—who has served his soul aright through all the varying conditions of want, discouragement and failure.

I know that it is trite and old advice, but—never give up!

The blacker and fiercer the storm, the more serene and fresh is the earth afterwards. Never has it been otherwise.

You never know when you are going to need sorely the training of sorrow, failure and want.

I recently visited a little boy in a hospital. The nurses told me that he had no chance at all. But the mother said that after losing a husband and facing two serious accidents in which her other children had been, she was steeled for anything. And so she smiled and buoyed her pale, suffering boy. I never saw such magnificent nerve and strength of character.

A week later they told this Mother that the boy would live! When he gets grown I hope someone will tell him how great a Mother he has. But no one will have to, I suspect.

You never know. If you did, you would maybe give up—and lose.

Somebody is always caring, waiting and expecting. People who understand, have come to know that God is always kind—that he always holds out a chance.

The Velvet Hammer

BY A. B. B.

J. FRED PARSONS

In building certain citizens, when Nature gets a start, she often looks upon her work and weakly loses heart; and when she has erected him five feet four inches high, she stops and says, "Oh, that's enough of this poor hopeless guy. He'll never be a big success, he'll never make a hit, and I shall save some labor if I call it off and quit."

But no such pessimistic mood, it's needless to be said, embar-rasses her purpose with a work of art like Fred. She sort o' lingers on the job; she likes to watch him grow, and has no nervous hankering to hear the whistle blow. The work is so entrancing and the labor is so light that he is not abandoned till he reaches royal height.

When Fred is not dispensing drugs to heal the sick and faint or the daily dandy with a fresh new coat of paint, he likes to shoot a gun club score which others pattern by, for he's the proud possessor of a gifted nerve and eye. He takes a hand in many things, is prominent in all, for it is hard to lose a man whose build is long and tall.

How Is Your Health?

By Uncle Sam, M. D.

tion Editor, U. S. Public Health Service, Washington, D. C. Give

ceive a personal reply.

Diphtheria has a short period of incubation, i. e., it develops within a few days after the infection was contracted.

If your child is not immune, he will probably show some signs of the disease within from one to seven days—usually from two to five days —after exposure.

The manner of its onset and the type of diphtheria varies, so that in mild cases it is not always possible to say that a child has diphtheria in the beginning.

In these cases, this cannot always be stated positively until the section from the throat and nose has been examined for the germs of the disease.

Hence, you can see the importance, for the safeguarding of other susceptible persons, of keeping your child at home when he has a sore throat, nasal discharge, and enlarged glands in the neck, even though he does not seem to be really ill.

Keep Him Quiet

It is equally important that he be kept quiet. The toxin, or poison, of diphtheria seems to have a decided predilection for the heart and nervous system, and sometimes for the kidneys. In nearly all severe cases there is some involvement of the heart, and a post-diphtheria paralysis is not at all uncommon, the muscles of the throat being frequently affected.

The use of antitoxin in diphtheria is now the recognized method of treatment. This, to be most effectious, must be administered before the toxin (the poison secreted by the germs) has had a chance to do much damage. It is therefore necessary to have a case of diphtheria treated as early as possible. When diphtheria is prevalent consider every sore throat a probable case of diphtheria and see for the doctor.

The germs are contained in the secretions from the nose and throat, and are spread by coughing, sneezing and talking.

How It Is Spread

The disease is spread by the patient, infected articles (toys, etc.), and by "carriers." A "carrier" is a person who carries the germs in his throat long after he has had the disease, or often when he has never had it at all.

Because of the danger of carriers and mild, unrecognized cases, in any instance where a case of diphtheria has developed in a family, institution, or school, every person who has been exposed should have an examination of the throat and nose.

A child's susceptibility to diphtheria is increased by the presence in the throat of adenoids and enlarged tonsils.

Worth While Verses

THE MEADOW LARK

With music throat and soul of song,
At home where meadow flowers throng,
Or in the grasses or the wheat,
Or in the corn field's green retreat—
That singing gladness ripples on,
When day comes through the purpling dawn,
Or at the edge of evening dusk—
That music of the Meadow Lark.

When spring comes home with fragrant feet,
That laughter set to music sweet,
That minstrel on the winds that pass,
That sweetest singing in the grass,
When fields are fresh with morning rain,
He sings along the country lane;
Till dusky twilight dims to dark—
I hear that rapture of the Lark.

In twittering notes on lifting wings,
So full of music, he must sing,
What wonder if the glad grass grows,
Because his music over flows,
And spills a melody around,
To feed the gardens of the ground;
Oh, I can hear till dreamy dark—
That wonder music of the Lark.

Some day in far sown fields of bloom,
Where life shall have more singing room,
Where love shall light the summer sky,
With splendors that shall never die—
That magic music of the lea Shall drift across some twilight sea,
Beyond the blinding touch of dark—
That music of the Meadow Lark.

Bear Stories for Bedtime

CHAPTER 98. FATHER BEAR FALLS OUT OF BED.

By Harvey Elliott.

Billy Bear went home thinking of what an interesting place Farmer Smith's farm was. So many funny things had happened that every little bit he would giggle right out loud as he thought about them. Of course he got in a pretty tight place several times, but then he got out all right.

There were several things that he was thankful for. He was thankful for that old wagon to jump into when Old Bossie the Cow was about to punch him with her horns. He was thankful that he hadn't run into the barn for he would have been shut out.

He was thankful, and perhaps captured by men the next day. He was thankful that neither Tommy Smith nor his father looked into the wagon when they backed it up against the barn-door. Then he was thankful that Farmer Smith had left his gun over against the side of the barn.

Billy Bear went home with his mind fully made up about one thing and that was he was going to Farmer Smith's farm again some day, no matter if Bossie the Cow did get after him. He would give most anything to hear that Baby Calf sing another song like the one it sang when he started to play with it.

Billy was so busy thinking about his experiences over at the Smith farm that he was surprised to look up and find that he was nearly home. The thing that made him look up was that he bumped into the fence before he saw it. When he looked up he discovered that it was the fence right close to his home.

Just then Father Bear had the things laid out for supper. Father Bear went down to the creek and had come home with a fine lot of fish.
My! But Billy was hungry! He had been having such a fine time that he had never thought of it since he saw the Baby Calf getting its dinner. He remembered that he was hungry then.

After supper was over and they had all gone to bed, Billy got started to talking about Farmer Smith's farm. He told them the whole story.
He didn't leave anything out. He told about Bossie Cow's blowout in his ear, about starting to play with Baby Calf, then about the funny song Baby Calf sang, about Old Bos-sie breaking through the fence, and about his jump into the wagon, and about all the things he saw from his grand-stand seat in the wagon.

When Billy came to the part about the Bear hunt in the barn and Mother Smith's ride on the Baby Calf, Father Bear was laughing so hard that he fell out of bed, ker-plunk, right on the floor and he wasn't able to get up again for a long, long time. Mother Bear didn't fall out of bed, but she almost shook the bed down.

A father and mother should never get too old to enter into their children's innocent enjoyments.

night Song.
